Line of Trenches in Russia Captured—Advance Against Turks Continues.

PARIS, March 22.—No infantry attacks were made on the Verdun front last night, the War Office announced this afternoon. The Germans heavily bombarded Malancourt, 10 miles northwest of Verdun, and there were artillery exchanges of less intensity east of the Meuse.

Last night's statement from the War Office said:

"On the left bank of the Meuse, the bombardment continued violently in the region of Malancourt, on the village of Ennes and Hill 304. Counter-shelled with great energy by our artillery, the enemy made no attempt to attack during the course of the day.

"There was an intermittent bombardment at several points of the front east of the Meuse, and in the Woëvre."

Russians Capture Line of Trenches on Eastern Front.

PETROGRAD, March 22.—The official communication issued by the War Office yesterday said:

"During the capture of the bridgehead near the village of Mikhalche (Galicia), we took two cannon. Most of the defenders of the bridgehead were killed in a hand-to-hand encounter.

"Caucasus front: After further fighting on the coast line, our troops have again advanced several versts in a westerly direction."

Austrian Aviators Bombard Port of Avlona, Albania.

BERLIN, March 22, by wireless to Sayville.—A successful air raid by Austrian aviators on the port and barracks of Avlona, Albania, is reported in yesterday's Austrian headquarters statement received from Vienna. The statement says:

Declares Submarine Fired on Men Leaving Steamer in Boats.

SYRACUSE, Italy, March 22.—Arnold Groom, commander of the British steamer Coquette, declares that his vessel was sunk without warning by a submarine flying the Austrian flag, the captain and crew barely having time to save themselves in two boats. As they were leaving the steamer, the captain asserts, the submarine continued to bombard the survivors.

After eight days the boats reached the Libyan coast, where seven of the sailors who occupied one of the boats, were taken prisoner by Bedouins. The other boat escaped and two days later reached a Libyan port, where the mariners were taken care of by Italian Carabinieri. The steamer Coquette was reported on Jan. 15 as sunk. She was a vessel of 426 tons.

Berlin Says Russians Have Gained No Success in Offensive.

BERLIN, via London, March 22.—The Russians have gained no success in their great extended offensive against the German lines, the War Office announced today.

Russians Sink 7000-Ton German Supply Ship.

LONDON, March 22.—The sinking by a Russian warship of the steamship Esperanza off Kallakra in the Black Sea off the Rumanian coast, is reported in a Reuter dispatch filed at Bucharest on Sunday. The Esperanza, a 7000-ton vessel, flying the German flag, is said to have been loaded with foodstuffs for Constantinople. The crew was captured by the Russians.

The dispatch also reports the sinking of a score of small sailing ships with cargoes of food.

WALKLESS SUFFRAGIST 'PARADE' AT NATIONAL CONVENTION HERE

Women Plan to "Pester" Delegates at the Hotels for Plank in Platform.
CHICAGO, March 22.—At the Illinois Equal Suffrage headquarters today it was said the suffrage demonstration which is planned for the Democratic national convention in St. Louis in June for a suffrage plank in the party platform, will be a "walkless parade." The "marchers" will stand still in circles about the hotel headquarters and the Coliseum, where the convention is to be held, and will remain in position throughout the opening day of the convention.

Delegates leaving or entering hotels and the convention hall will be forced to pass through the rings of women, who will use this opportunity to present their arguments.

38,435,153 FLAT-FOOTED WOMEN

Experts Declare Mothers Are to Blame for Fallen Arches.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—Approximately 38,435,153 women and girls in the United States are flat-footed or have broken arches, and mothers are to blame, if the statement of a group of Philadelphia foot experts who have studied the feminine pedal extremities for the last 24 years are to be believed.

They say the American mother who insists that her growing daughter be kept on flat heels, when the foot has developed so it needs a slight heel, is responsible for the condition. They also blame mothers for not educating their grown-up daughters to ask for shoes that fit and abandon the habit of "style at any price."

GERMAN SUBSTITUTE FOR MEAT

"Procarinol," Discovery of Scientists, Described in Advertisements.

LONDON, March 22.—Berlin papers which have reached here contain advertisements of the latest scientific discovery of German chemists—a substitute for meat.

It is called "procarinol," and the advertisement describes it as "a vegetable meat, above all competition, a first-class article of popular consumption of high-class economic value, for private households, the military authorities, military hospitals, communities, hotels, etc., in taste and preparation just like meat, but far more nutritious and cheaper, good for baking and boiling in a variety of ways."

CARPENTERS ON MUNICIPAL BRIDGE GO OUT ON STRIKE

City Officials Say Men's Action Is Direct Violation of Written Agreement.

PLEGED TO ARBITRATION

Board Was Appointed Last Fall to Settle All Grievances of the Union.

Carpenter work was suspended on the east approach of the free bridge today, following a walkout of union carpenters, which, city officials said, was in direct violation of a written agreement which was entered into last fall.

This agreement, which was signed by Mayor Kiel and representatives of the different unions, pledged the union to submit to arbitration any difficulties that might arise, and to remain at work while the arbitration was in progress.

An arbitration board was named, composed of Louis J. Haenni, for the unions, Charles E. Smith, for the city, and Stephen R. Colson, chosen by the other two.

Two cases of differences between the city and the workers have been submitted to this Arbitration Board, since that time, and in each case the workers remained at their work, as required by the agreement. But the carpenters quit today, with less than one day's notice to the city.

Tell of Complaint.
The carpenters' representatives called on Acting Mayor Haller at the city hall this morning and told him they quit because iron workers had been doing their work. They have no complaint of hours, they said. Their complaint is that the iron workers have used carpenters' tools, and that in some cases an iron worker has sawed off the end of a piece of piling.

Clinton H. Plank, engineer in charge of the work, and William E. Roff, assistant to President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, said that when the iron workers were put to work a conference with the carpenters was called and an agreement made as to the division of the work. That agreement, they said, had been carried out.

Acting Mayor Haller told the union representatives that he believed they had violated their agreement without justification, and that they had acted in bad faith and had harmed union labor in the eyes of the public. He censured them, also, for making this move at a time when Mayor Kiel is away. The Mayor, President Kinsey and Haenni, the union representative on the arbitration board are in Texas.

J. W. Williams of the East St. Louis Carpenters' Union said that, in a case where men of another trade did carpenter work, the carpenters considered there was nothing to arbitrate. When Williams was asked if any complaint had been made to the iron workers, he said it was not his business to make such complaints to another union, but that an appeal might be made to a central labor body.

As many as 40 carpenters have been employed at one time on the bridge approach. This number has been less in the last few days, and yesterday 12 were at work.

GOVERNMENT IS TO SAVE RAGS

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Instructions were sent today to custodians of all Government buildings in the United States to collect and save their waste paper and old rags.

The Government now expects to sell them and a tidy sum will be placed in the treasury annually from their sale.

The prisoners are Harry Kern, 16 years old, of 238 Alberta street; Reinhardt Uhr, 16, of 1819 South Spring avenue; John Lewer, 16, of 1820A South Broadway, and Clifford Brown, 11 years old, a negro, of 328 Pine street.

J. P. Smith, Chief Probation Officer of the Juvenile Court, said that it was necessary to keep the boys in the police station, owing to the quarantining of their regular quarters. He said that their parents were notified that they might take the boys home if they would agree to bring them into court when notified, but that they refused to take the boys back.

SUGAR NOW 14 POUNDS FOR $1 AND GOING UP

European War Again Is Blamed for High Price—Lard Also Mounting Skyward.

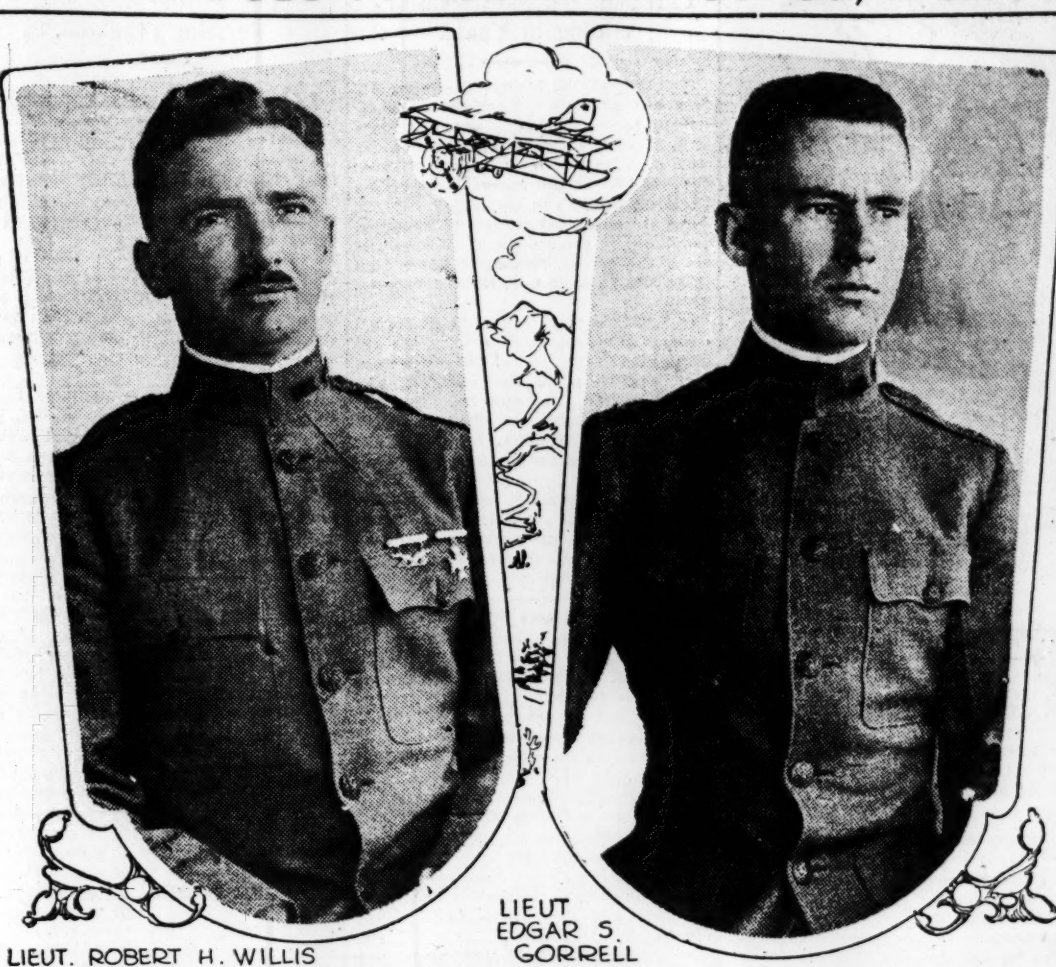

Sugar is up. It has been going up for the last six weeks, and dealers expect it to keep ascending indefinitely. All the sugar that the housewife can get for her dollar at the corner grocery is 14 pounds. This time last year she was getting 17 pounds.

The European war is blamed. The European countries have been buying heavily, and that limits the supply here. Lard is up, too. It is being sold at 14 to 17 cents a pound. The assigned reason is the scarcity and high price of hogs. The poor quality of corn last fall forced hog raisers to rush their hogs to market.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 22.—Tom Stockins and Mary Garters of Cross County, Ark., came to Memphis and married today. Stockins is a nephew, he said, of "Burr" Buckles, who went to Arkansas several years ago from what is known as the "Shoestring" section of Mississippi.

FOUR BOYS HELD IN CELLS DESPITE COURT'S ORDERS

Quarantine of House of Detention Leaves No Other Place to Keep Them.

Four juvenile delinquents were in cells at Central Police Station today, contrary to a recent order of the Juvenile Court. Reporters ascertained this after a woman had telephoned to the press room at police headquarters inquiring about a boy prisoner.

One of the juveniles has been in the holdover 10 days, another seven days, the third six days and the fourth two days. Office records are inaccessible as a result of a recent Police Board order, and the presence of the boys was not known to anyone but police officials.

Several weeks ago Circuit Judge Kimmel paroled a boy rather than permit him to stay in jail with seasoned criminals. The police had reported that the boy was too bad to be with other juveniles in the house of detention.

The house of detention has been quarantined for several weeks on account of a case of scarlet fever and it is being fumigated today. Juvenile delinquents in the meantime were being cared for by the matron at police headquarters, but owing to the large number of girls she had in charge, she was unable to care for the boys and they were put in cells.

The Juvenile Court's objection to having children incarcerated with older persons is that association with seasoned criminals will have a bad effect on the juveniles.

The prisoners are Harry Kern, 16 years old, of 238 Alberta street; Reinhardt Uhr, 16, of 1819 South Spring avenue; John Lewer, 16, of 1820A South Broadway, and Clifford Brown, 11 years old, a negro, of 328 Pine street.

He said that their parents were notified that they might take the boys home if they would agree to bring them into court when notified, but that they refused to take the boys back.

SON OF RICH EAST ST. LOUIS DOCTOR REVEALS ELOPEMENT

Charles Wilhelm Jr. and Miss Irene Mulconery Were Married at Carlinville, Ill., Saturday.

Charles Wilhelm Jr., 20 years old, son of a wealthy East St. Louis physician, it was learned today, eloped Saturday with Miss Irene Mulconery, 18 years old, daughter of John Mulconery, of East St. Louis, a railroad engineer. They were married by Justice of the Peace Crew at Carlinville, Ill.

After the ceremony they returned to their homes. Young Wilhelm, who is a student at Howe Military School, Elmhurst, Ind., and visiting his parents, told his father last night of his marriage. The bride, a high school senior, told her parents at the same time.

Mrs. Wilhelm Sr. said today that her son could live at home, but could not bring his bride there. Mrs. Mulconery was equally emphatic that Wilhelm could not visit his bride or communicate with her at her home.

RICHARD J. HOWARD KILLED IN FRANCE; WAS LIEUTENANT

Young St. Louisian Joined Scottish "Black Watch" Regiment Year Ago.

A cablegram from the British War Secretary, received in St. Louis today, announced that Richard J. Howard of St. Louis had been killed in action in France. Howard, who was a son of Mrs. Edith P. Howard of 439 West 12th avenue, had been a lieutenant in the "Black Watch" regiment, a crack Scottish infantry organization.

Howard, after inheriting $55,000 in 1912, was married in 1914 in New York to Dorothy Levy, a showgirl who was suffering among the troops in the field, especially among the cavalry which has penetrated into the mountain country and is suffering most from the cold of the nights.

The clothing issued to the men before they left the base at Columbus was the light summer campaign garments and he says this has been little or no protection against the extreme cold of the Mexican nights in the mountains. The days are hot and the men have found their packs of the greatest hindrance in marching across the sand wastes.

The horses of the cavalry suffer as much or more than the men, he says, and many have gone lame or have had to be killed in the field.

One transport he passed on the way back to the Columbus base, Sergt. Harrison said, was short 12 mules and he saw many horses trooping. This story was borne out by an order received at the quartermaster's depot here last night for a large shipment of clips to clip the horses and save them from the heat of the day marches.

Medical corps officers are making every effort to prevent typhus fever from developing among the men in the field, for the medical men say they fear this disease more than they do the bullets. Consequently the men are being warned to avoid the Carranza soldiers.

Bridge builders, carpenters and quartermaster helpers are being rushed from here to the front to handle the great volume of supplies and rebuild bridges.

MILITIA OFFICERS TOLD TO GET IN TOUCH WITH ARMY DEPOTS

Suggestion Made to Illinoisans to Get Instructions for Possible Mobilization.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 22.—It was learned here today that quartermasters and commissary officers of the Illinois National Guard have been informed that it would be well for them to report as soon as possible to the United States Army Depot Quartermasters, either in St. Louis or Chicago, for instructions in event of mobilization of the National Guard.

Col. Stanley, the Army Quartermaster here, today said that no such instructions as outlined in the above dispatch had been received from the War Department.

Summer Garments Prove Inadequate for Men in Mexican Mountain Districts

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EL PASO, Tex., March 22.—More soldiers continue to come here for treatment at Fort Bliss with stories of suffering which makes the movement into Mexico appear as anything but a pleasure jaunt.

Sergt. Harrison of the Thirteenth cavalry was brought to the Fort last night suffering from exhaustion. He said the heat of the days and the cold of the nights had caused much suffering among the troops in the field, especially among the cavalry which has penetrated into the mountain country and is suffering most from the cold of the nights.

TROOPS IN MEXICO HUNT FOR AVIATORS, MISSING THREE DAYS

Wireless Communication Between Pershing's Command and Columbus Is Restored.

TWO LOST FLYERS HAVE ONLY 3 DAYS' SUPPLIES

For First Time in History Army Has Motor Truck Trains Running to Field Base, Expresses and Locals Operating From Columbus on Regular Schedule.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 22.—One of the aviators missing from the squadron that went to join Gen. Pershing's column, descended somewhere south of Casas Grandes, it was learned at Gen. Funston's headquarters today. His name was not given.

Reports today explained that one of the aviators reached Casas Grandes and was sent south over the country in which the three detachments of cavalry are operating. No details relative to his disappearance were received.

COLUMBUS, N. M., March 22.—Wireless communication with the advanced base of the American expeditionary forces at Casas Grandes was restored today. Several messages, all in code, were received, but none gave word of the two missing Lieutenants of the army aero corps. Search for the missing men is being continued.

EL PASO, Tex., March 22.—The wires between Juarez and Casas Grandes were still cut today, so that for more than 24 hours Gen. Gaviara has been without any news of what is transpiring at the scene of the reported fighting between the Carranza and Villa forces near Namasquia.

On the American side communication for every possible trace of the two flyers. Small detachments of troops stationed along the line of communication joined the search.

The fact that Willis and Gorrell carried only three days' rations and two small canteens of water added to the anxiety over their mishap. If they have gotten far away from their course they may have trouble in obtaining additional supplies from the inhabitants of the district they were traversing.

For the first time in its history, the United States army now has a motor truck line operating regularly between a field force and its base of supplies. Trucks recently purchased by the War Department are now in commission, according to dispatches from the base of supplies at Columbus, N. M.

The operation of the line is similar in every detail to that of a railroad, both express and local trains being run. The first of the express trains leaving Columbus today carrying supplies to Gen. Pershing.

Run on Regular Schedule.

The trains leave daily carrying supplies, forage, ammunition and arms and run on regular schedules, their progress being watched by dispatchers at the radio stations here and in the field. The express trains carry only supplies for the troops, while the local trains carry supplies for the field base. Two divisions are being maintained, the first extending from here to the field base and the second from there to the camping place of the field force.

For slower freight, wagon trains are being run, but the large part of the supplies is being transported by motor. At present only two motor companies are operating the trains, but it is said that the organization of two additional companies will follow the arrival late this week of more trucks.

Civilians have been employed to drive the cars, each car in the train being separated from the other, while en route, by 25 yards.

Interesting sidelights on how the American soldiers are faring in Mexico are reaching here through members of the expeditionary force who have been sent back from there as couriers. They say there is considerable suffering on account of the intense heat of the days and the sharp cold at night. Some of the officers have ordered sleeping coats lined with lamb's wool. The infantrymen are especially affected by the sand and many are suffering from swollen and blistered feet.

Troops Search for Aviators.

Investigations were going forward today, which it was hoped would disclose the safety of the aviators. Drivers of motor trucks carrying supplies south

10,000 HOMELESS IN A $2,500,000 FIRE IN PARIS, TEX.

Hotels, Public Buildings, Business Houses and Newspaper Offices Destroyed.

NO DEATHS ARE REPORTED

Apparatus Brought From Other Cities, but Water Supply Was Lacking.

PARIS, Tex., March 22.—With approximately 10,000 persons homeless, the entire business section of Paris wiped out by fire and 1500 to 2000 dwellings destroyed, the flames which started shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon still were burning at different points in the city at daybreak today. The property loss, from the most authentic sources, stands at from $2,500,000 to $3,500,000.

The wind, which was blowing a gale when the fire started and which had abated considerably shortly after midnight, shifted at daylight and the fire was slowly traveling in a southerly direction, spreading the flames throughout the southern residence district, but, in a freakish manner jumping whole blocks in its progress.

All the hotels, grocery stores, drug stores, dry goods houses, business places, a bank building, telephone and newspaper offices were destroyed by the fire.

The body of John Straub, negro, was found in the ruins of his home in the negro quarter today.

Mrs. W. J. Bailey, 6 years old, died early this morning from heart disease caused by excitement. Mrs. A. C. Poul, a negro woman, whose house on South Main street was burned, is missing.

Apparatus was brought from other cities to fight the flames, but the water supply was inadequate.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that causes a yellow complexion.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Teaching St. Louis Mothers How to Impart Early Moral Education to Their Children

Miss Mabel Craig Stillman Tells of Her Work Here

She Does Not Think Time Has Arrived to Teach Subject in Public School—Finds That Fathers as Rule, Will Not Take an Interest in It and That Among Most Eager to Learn Are Young Women With Modern Education.

By Marguerite Martyn.

"NOT the fact that this favorite game among boys of one of the public schools in St. Louis, as reported to me, is cutting in varts pictures of the nude and piecing them together again—not that fact is worthy of mention," said Miss Mabel Craig Stillman, "but the fact that there was one among those boys upon confidential enough terms with his mother to come and tell her of the games; that is the point worth emphasizing and calling attention to."

Miss Stillman, a lecturer on the new "moral education," otherwise sex hygiene, had shocked an audience of mothers by her mention of this game among other evidences of evil knowledge among school children that had been called to her attention. She has been in St. Louis all winter in the employ of the Mothers' Congress, holding classes for mothers, instructing them in methods of imparting to their children knowledge of the vital facts of life with the proper moral coloring. She holds her meetings usually in some public school building, to which the school patrons are invited, her work having the special sanction of Supt. Blawie, Judge Hennings, Dr. Starkloff, the Rev. George R. Dodson, president of the Society of Social Hygiene, and others.

She does not intend to criticize the moral standards of the children of one school more than another," said Miss Stillman, at her residence, 489 Delmar boulevard, yesterday. "Nor did I intend to criticize the moral standards existing in St. Louis schools as being below those of other cities. Schools reflect the conditions of the neighborhood in which they are situated. The faults of one neighborhood may not be the same as the faults of another, but none is immune to the moral atmosphere of the city."

She said that when parents neglect the duty of gaining their children's confidence, they are doing them a disservice.

Child Must Be Gained

"THE point I was trying to make was that only by mother's gaining the confidence of their children can the wrong moral influences be apprehended as they were in this case."

"And the point I intend to make in all my work is that the mother must begin at the earliest possible age to instruct her child in the truth about its being if she is to acquire that child's confidence. If she waits until adolescence is late, by that time her child has become reticent and self-conscious and will not frankly discuss such matters with her."

Miss Stillman thinks she has an explanation of how the new hay arrived which is as fascinating as the story and less misleading. An outline of her course of instruction to mothers as it is to be imparted to the child up to its fourteenth year looks like an outline of a study in biology and in zoology.

"Even a most primitive mother knows what her child will comprehend and be interested in at different ages," she said. "And given certain subject matter and definite methods she will know how to adapt the truth to the child in his own way."

PRAIRIE FIRES BURNING IN A DOZEN KANSAS COUNTIES

Houses Destroyed by Flames Sweeping Over 70 Miles of Land.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 22.—Prairie fires were burning in a dozen Western Kansas counties early today. Although no loss of life had been reported, many houses were caught in the fast-moving flames and pasture lands reduced to black stubble.

One blaze which started near Leoti in Wichita county, started eastward, burned its way through Scott and Lane counties and finally was believed to be under control west of Ute in Ness county, 70 miles.

Dodge City maintained a fire guard all night on the edge of the city to check the flames which threatened from the northwest. Fires were burning in six counties to the north and west of that place.

Volunteer fire fighters worked all night in various places plowing fire-guard furrows, carrying water and using every other possible method to stop the advance of the flames.

The Missouri Historical Society will meet at the Jefferson Memorial Friday evening, at 8:15. D. R. Francis will preside and the meeting will be in the nature of a farewell to him. In view of his appointment as Ambassador to Russia. It will be open to the public.

A portrait of former Mayor Kreisman will be presented to the society. The presentation will be made by former Mayor C. P. Walbridge. It is expected that all the former Mayors now living in St. Louis will be present.

a way which will be a lesson not only in the beauty of all things created but character building of the best kind."

"Do you believe in teaching this subject in the public schools?" Miss Stillman was asked.

"Not yet," she responded. "In classes for girls to which I have spoken in schools and industrial plants I have asked the question, 'Who gave you the first instruction concerning these truths?' About 10 per cent have said 'My mother.' To introduce the subject indiscriminately to unprepared minds would be disastrous. It is for the present a study for parents."

"The most encouraging indication of the progress of the work is the eagerness and interest shown by young mothers who have been college women or have had the more modern education. Their acceptance of these theories and eagerness for the eugenic progress of the next generation."

"The most discouraging facts," concluded Miss Stillman, "is the lack of interest displayed by fathers. We have with both men and women speakers parents' meetings as well as the mothers' meetings, but it is difficult to get the men to attend and to see and accept their responsibility in the matter. The one locality in which men have taken hold of their part of the work is in the State of Oregon. There an appropriation of $12,000 a year is made for the furtherance of moral education."

"And that," I observed, "is a state in which the women vote?"

"That is the state," she replied.

High Winds Do Damage in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., March 22.—Tornado conditions prevailed in Central Nebraska last night and as far west as the Wyoming line. At Hastings the wind blew 61 miles an hour and wrecked some windmills and partly unroofed buildings. It was a straightaway blow, but with tornado tendencies. Railroad reports indicated a very high wind from Hastings westward. In Wyoming it was said to have reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour, but without serious damage so far as is known.

FORMER SOLDIER KILLS MARSHAL AT O'FALLON STATION

Discharged Trooper Refused to Give Account of Himself and Was Under Arrest.

CHASED TO CORN FIELD

He Is Captured by Crowd and Is Locked Up With Companion.

Benjamin B. Schmidt, City Marshal of O'Fallon, Ill., was shot and instantly killed at 5 o'clock last night on the station platform by Thomas L. Boreman of Fort Bayard, N. M., a discharged soldier, because he asked Boreman where he was going, and tried to arrest him.

Boreman escaped, but was pursued by men and boys, and captured in a cornfield half a mile south of O'Fallon. He was locked up at Belleville. Kenneth Ford of Victoria, B. C., who was with Boreman, is also held.

Boreman says he was discharged from the army after serving two years and two months, because his lungs were weak. He was on his way to visit his mother, but refused to tell where she lives. He said he picked up Ford in East St. Louis, and they went to O'Fallon on an electric car, and stayed at a hotel until yesterday afternoon.

They went to the Baltimore & Ohio station, he said, to take a train to Freeport, Ill. They saw the Marshal approaching, and Boreman remarked to Ford: "Here comes the Marshal. I bet he gives me the once over."

The Marshal asked him where he was going. Boreman said it was none of his business. The Marshal ordered him to throw up his hands, and told him he was under arrest, and Boreman says Schmidt fired at him. He drew his own revolver, and fired, and Schmidt fell dead at his feet. He says that in his flight he lost his revolver. He and Ford were taken to Belleville in the automobile of Mayor Tiedemann.

Ford says he struck up an acquaintance with Boreman at O'Fallon at noon yesterday. He denies that he heard what passed between Boreman and Schmidt before the shooting.

Schmidt was 42 years old. He leaves his wife and seven children, ranging from 6 months to 10 years. Boreman is 24 years old.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Friends of Lieut. James Allen Stevenson of the Ninth Infantry and Miss Evelyn Lillian Bailey have learned that they were married at Laredo, Tex., March 14, when he was awaiting orders to assist in the pursuit of Villa.

Miss Bailey is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Harry Lee Bailey. The Colonel was for many years commandant of the army post at Plattsburg, N. Y., and has many friends here. His daughter met Lieut. Stevenson several years ago. They met again at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., two summers ago. About two months ago Miss Bailey went on a visit to Laredo, where Lieut. Stevenson was stationed. When the Ninth Infantry was ordered to hold itself in readiness to go into Mexico after Villa the marriage was arranged immediately.

BRIDE IS NAMED IN $100,000 SUIT FOR ALIENATION

Artist's Wife Contends Woman Who Wed Seligman Heir Won Her Husband's Affection.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 22.—That Mrs. Gladys Snellenberg Seligman, who was married Thursday to Arthur R. Seligman, son of the late Maurice Seligman, has been named as defendant in a $100,000 alienation suit brought by Mrs. Katherine M. Strauss, wife of Malcolm Strauss, an artist, came to light in the Supreme Court yesterday.

Mrs. Strauss through counsel asked Justice Gavanagh for alimony pending a suit for separation filed several days ago. In her papers she alleged the artist's affections had grown cold since a young society woman posed for a full-length portrait.

It was through affidavits submitted by Mrs. Strauss that Mrs. Seligman's identity was established. She is the daughter of Samuel Snellenberg, a wealthy resident of Rydall, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia. The plaintiff was formerly a chorus girl and model.

Promises to Cancel Contract.

The artist says in his affidavit that last October he contracted to paint Miss Snellenberg's portrait at his studio, and also to design costumes in which she was to appear at charity balls. His wife objected but he needed the money and went ahead. He admits he promised his wife to cancel the contract and that he broke this promise. He also gave Mrs. Strauss his word that when he had finished the portrait he would see the young woman no more.

I called on my friend and confidential adviser, Milton Guterman," he asserts, "and told him of my worry and troubles about Miss Snellenberg's painting. I told him that after a few sittings I would take my wife to Toronto and Atlantic City, and then everything would be smoothed out."

"My wife," he asserts, "called upon Milton Guterman, my adviser, and falsely represented to him that my conduct with Miss Snellenberg had been highly improper. Detectives were procured and my wife told that my conduct with Miss Snellenberg was reprehensible. A few days later I was sued for separation and Miss Snellenberg was made defendant in a $100,000 alienation suit."

Strauss states his love for his wife is as great as ever and denies his conduct with Miss Snellenberg was indiscreet.

Became Irritable, Wife Says.

In her complaint Mrs. Strauss says she became aware her husband was not as attentive as usual after a society woman had begun to pose for him. She became irritable, found fault with him and seemed to be in a highly nervous condition. He told her, she states, he could no longer live with her and called her a "little drunk." There was no cause for this remark, she asserts. She alleges that most of the meetings between the woman and her husband occurred at his studio.

Justice Gavanagh awarded $20 a week alimony and $200 counsel fees to Mrs. Strauss.

WOMAN GETS INFANT TO ADOPT THREE DAYS AFTER OWN DIES

Boy Is Taken to Home of Mrs. Benjamin Werner Hour After Birth.

An hour after a son was born to Mrs. Elsie Rush of Vandalia, Ill., in St. Louis Monday night the child was carried by the attending physician, Dr. Mathilda Tibe of 748 Michigan avenue, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Werner, 1202A South Broadway, and placed in the arms of Mrs. Werner to take the place of her own 3-days-old son, who had died that morning.

The Werners yesterday applied for adoption papers and today they told a reporter they are going to rear the boy as their own. They said they wanted to keep from him the fact of his adoption.

The Werners had been married four years. The child born Friday was their second, the first having died in infancy. Mrs. Werner, who is 25 years old, told Dr. Tibe she wanted a child and would like to adopt a baby. Mrs. Rush is separated from her husband and said she would be unable to support her child.

DANCING TROUPE PRESENTED TO SHAH OF PERSIA BY RUSSIANS

Great Array Conveyed to Palace in Auto Vans When Army Occupied Teheran, French Minister Says.

LONDON, March 22.—The French Minister to Persia, describing the entry of the Russians into Teheran, in a letter received here, says the commanding General of the Russian troops, a typical Cossack, brought with him a long array of covered auto vans. He proceeded to the palace of the Shah, where the vans were opened and there emerged a great assemblage of Russian dancers, male and female, and chiefly the latter, in airy attire, with female acrobats and snake charmers.

The troupe, the General made known, formed a present from the Czar to the Shah.

According to the French Minister, this happy thought has resulted in greatly smoothing the way of the Russians toward their occupation of Persia.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Major-General Wood yesterday said as many men as possible should enroll in the training camp to be held this year throughout the country.

"The necessity for heavy enrollment," said Gen. Wood, "is especially great this year. College and university men have responded in large numbers, and this is particularly true of Princeton University."

"One plan which has been started in New York City is to provide financial assistance for young men who would like to undergo the training at Plattsburg but are unable to afford it. One woman has telephoned me, telling me that she would be responsible for the expense of eight men at the camp this summer. Others have done the same thing."

INDORSEMENT OF MAJOR IS WON BY DROPPING RUMSEY

Revolt Against Governor
Threatened at St. Joseph
When St. Louis Excise
Commissioner Attempts to Re-Enter Race for National Committeeman.

GOLTRA DEFEATS
JAMES M. COWGILL

Influence of Reed Through
Federal Office Holders Strongly Evident—The Rev. John T. M. Johnston to Enter Senate Race.

By GEORGE W. EADS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 22.—By sacrificing his St. Louis Excise Commissioner, Horace S. Rumsey, in the bitter contest for Democratic national committeeman, Gov. Major was able to save himself from probable defeat on the proposition to indorse him for Vice President in the turbulent Democratic State convention last night. The indorsement was voted by 1076 to 221.

Rumsey, who withdrew as a candidate for Democratic national committeeman Monday, on the contingency that Senator Stone would enter the race, wanted to get back into the contest last night, but notice was served upon the Major leaders on the convention floor that the delegates from the entire Southern half of the State and from many other sections would vote almost to a man against the vice presidential indorsement if Rumsey's name should be presented to the convention.

The Major men finally substituted the name of James Cowgill of Kansas City, former State Treasurer, for national committeeman, after Senator Stone had sent a telegram positively declining to become a candidate.

Goltra defeated Cowgill by a vote of 745 to 582 and would have defeated Rumsey by a greater majority.

Delegates laugh at Major. The scene in the convention hall last night was one of the most remarkable ever witnessed in this State. Even the delegates who sat in the convention and voted the indorsement of Gov. Major for Vice President, laughed outright when his name was first read by the chairman of the Resolutions Committee, and they shouted with delight over the scathing denunciation of the Governor by Judge Charles H. Mayer of St. Joseph, pleading with the delegates not to commit a moral wrong and political blunder by indorsing a man for the vice presidency whom they knew to be unworthy of this distinction.

His further declaration that the nomination of Major for Vice President of the United States would dishearten Democracy and destroy confidence in the leadership responsible for him also was wildly cheered and a storm of applause greeted his statement that "in St. Joseph to mention the name of Elliot W. Major is to suggest ignorance, oppression, graft and political corruption."

The convention listened with approval to Judge Mayer while for 30 minutes he played Gov. Major as a Governor of the State who has never before been denounced in a state gathering of the party, but it showed great impatience with Sam B. Cook of Jefferson City, one of the old guard Democrats, who deplored discord in a state convention and made the plea that "Woodrow Wilson would nominate the vice presidential candidate, regardless of what the Missouri convention did."

The anti-Major forces in the convention were well satisfied with the fight, even though the indorsement was voted, because, they declared, they had placed the brand of unfitness so indelibly upon Gov. Major that he could not make any headway in a campaign for delegates from any other state.

Jackson County Votes for Major.

While the vote was being taken on the proposition to indorse the Governor, Rumsey, still loyal to his chief, appeared for the first time on the floor of the convention and lined up the St. Louis and Jackson County delegations to vote for him. Jackson County cast its 129 votes for Major, with the delegates laughing and joking at their action. Of the 21 St. Louis delegates only those of the Twenty-eighth Ward voted against the Major indorsement, but St. Louis County cast 22 votes solidly against it.

The Federal office holders in St. Louis, Kansas City and other sections of the State, who are interested in Senator Reed's having a clear field for the senatorship, were active in urging the adoption of the resolution of indorsement. They made no attempt to conceal their motive, which was simply to sidetrack the Governor.

But one result of the convention will be the almost certain entry of the Rev. John T. M. Johnston of St. Louis, a wealthy banker, into the senatorial contest within two weeks. Johnston has the reputation of being a good campaigner and an interesting public speaker and there are many who attended the convention who believe that, as an opposition candidate to Senator Reed, he will develop enough strength to make a formidable showing.

Reed's willingness to fight for the Major indorsement to forest the Governor upon the country as a vice presidential candidate because Missouri wanted to get rid of him, and particularly because Reed wanted to get him out of his way, angered many of the Senator's former supporters. Dr. Johnston said he was getting considerable encouragement to get into the fight.

The adoption of resolutions strongly indorsing the Wilson administration and pledging the delegates from Missouri to vote for his re-nomination in the national convention at St. Louis, in June, was of secondary importance to the fight over national committeeman and the Major indorsement. The resolution relating to Wilson and national affairs was brought from Washington by former Gov. A. M. Dockery, Third Assistant Postmaster-General.

There was little interest in the election of eight delegates at large to the national convention, each to have one half vote. It was apparent from the outset that Senators Stone and Reed, Speaker Clark, Lon V. Stephens, Wil-

Ham H. Phelps, James M. Cowgill, Dr. J. T. M. Johnston and Supreme Judge (Continued on page 5)

DAWN OF THE ELECTRICAL ERA IN RAILROADING

The All-Steel "Olympian" and "Columbian" Trains Now Operated Electrically Over the Rocky Mountains

Progress has no age. Onward is ever the slogan of railway construction, operation and efficiency. In this forward movement electricity challenges the supremacy of steam, and on the Scroll of Time the year 1916 marks the dawn of the electrical era in railroading—and the accomplishment of a definite step to conserve the world's energies. It is particularly fitting that "The St. Paul Road," which since its inception has been identified with great pioneering achievements, should have been able to carry through to definite accomplishment the dreams and aspirations of engineers and scientists by the electrification of 440 miles of its main line through a region demanding the utmost of energy and efficiency in locomotives.

440 Miles of Main Line Electrified

The electrified district is that of the Great Continental Divide, extending from Harlowton, Mont., to Avery, Idaho, a distance of 440 miles. (115 miles, from Three Forks to Deer Lodge, now in operation.)

World's Mightiest Locomotives

The electric locomotives which pull "The Olympian" and "The Columbian" over the mountain divisions are the most powerful built. They are 112 feet long and weigh 284 tons. They require no coal or water, run at an even speed, are thoroughly dependable in all temperatures, penetrate the heaviest snow drifts with comparative ease, are smokeless and dustless.

Power from Mountain Streams

The power used to operate the electric locomotives is obtained from mountain waterfalls instead of from coal—marking a definite step to conserve the world's resources. This power in 100,000 volts alternating current, is delivered to the 14 substations of the railway and there transformed to 3,000 volts direct—the current used by the locomotives. This is the highest voltage direct current adapted for railway work in the world.

Regenerative Braking

One of the scientific marvels is regenerative braking, by which the train on down grades, instead of consuming electricity, actually produces it while traveling onward, and by which at the same time, the speed of the train is kept under perfect control.

This is the first use of direct current regenerative braking. It provides maximum safety, eliminates wheel, brakeshoe and track wear and overheating, insures a uniform speed and recovers from 25% to 52% of power.

More Efficient Operation

With electrification has come more efficient and economical operation; a better maintenance of schedules; the practical elimination of vexatious delays due to bad weather; smoother riding caused by greater evenness of speed; enhanced comfort due to greater cleanliness, and a pronounced improvement of the view from car window and observation platform, owing to freedom from smoke and cinders.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway

The advantages of electrification, added to the superb equipment and luxurious appointments of "The Olympian" and "The Columbian," the renowned personal service of the employees, the splendid physical condition of the road and the extent and variety of the scenery makes the "St. Paul" more than ever the road of efficiency, comfort and charm. Remember this fact when planning your next trip to the Pacific Northwest.

ing constituted the only alternates at large selected by the convention.

There was much excitement in the convention late yesterday, when the report was spread that Rumsey had decided to re-enter the contest for national committee. D. C. McChung, chairman of the State Committee and Warden of the penitentiary under Major, went among the country delegates feeling out their sentiment. He soon learned that the country delegates were determined to fight Rumsey to the last.

After hurried conference the Major-McChung forces decided to attempt to defeat Goltra with Cowgill. He was placed in nomination by R. S. Pearson of Pike County, who read a telegram from Senator Stone declining to make the fight and, because he can't get the nomination, select some man capable of rendering efficient party service, who would be generally acceptable to the State Democratic.

The Jackson County delegation voted solidly for Cowgill. Rumsey was able to hold all but 94 out of the 239 St. Louis delegates in line for Cowgill. The 39 Greene County votes, which were anti-Rumsey, were cast for Cowgill. A considerable scattering of the country vote, which would have been for Goltra as against Rumsey, was cast for Cowgill. Through the influence of Major in the Ninth Congressional District, and the activity of Ed. A. Glenn, Federal job holder, a considerable portion of the Ninth District vote was cast for Cowgill. The Major forces also asserted that they could have delivered the same vote to Rumsey.

Spirit of Major Indorsement.

Thomas J. Rooney of Joplin, member of the Jasper County delegation, told this story at the convention to illustrate the spirit back of the indorsement of Gov. Major for Vice President.

"After we Jasper County convention had transacted all of its other business and we had settled our local fights, one of the delegates addressed the chairman and made a speech about like this: 'Mr. Chairman, there is one other matter that might be brought before this convention and that is the indorsement of Gov. Major for Vice President. Of course, we know the indorsement will not do good, because he can't get the nomination, anyway, and isn't big enough for the job if he should get it. But I guess it won't do any harm, and if we indorse him it might help us to get some tickets to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis. Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that we vote the indorsement.' The delegates, regarding the matter as a joke, voted the indorsement."

"True to their instructions, and the spirit in which they were given, the Jasper County delegates cast 35 votes in the State convention last night to indorse Gov. Major for the vice presidency."

Circuit Judge Mayer of St. Joseph, in offering the minority report from the Resolutions Committee, referred to the Governor as a "goober pea," and likened him to a "sheep-killing dog."

"We are willing," he said, "to condone Major's remarks, but we are not willing to brag about them."

The anti-Major demonstration was expected. It had been carefully planned by the Buchanan County delegation, aided by the St. Louis County delegation, as a rebuke to the Governor for placing the State affairs of the two counties under bosses. Delegates on the floor of the convention and in groups about the hotel, and in the lobby of the convention hall, loudly declared that the vote for Major was not representative of the feeling of the delegates.

One Democratic leader, who voted for an indorsement of the Governor, said: "If the delegates had voted their real sentiments the vote would just about have been reversed. But we were up against a proposition of repudiating a Democratic Governor on the eve of an important election. It did not look to us like good politics to do it."

"If it had not been that we believed a failure to indorse Major would be providing Republicans with campaign material to use against the Democratic ticket."

The vote on the national committee was considered by delegates as more nearly representing the attitude of the convention toward the Governor, as in that contest delegates could really express their views by voting for Goltra without, in their opinion, "giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

Defenders of Governor.

The Governor's defenders before the convention were Sam B. Cook, former Secretary of State, who in this convention appeared actively as a leader in Democratic affairs for about the first time since 1904, when he was defeated for nomination, and John H. Lucas, attorney for the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. of Kansas City, and legislative representative of that company.

The proposition to indorse the Governor was contained in resolutions adopted by 14 of the 16 members of the Resolutions Committee. When the report was read and Lucas reached the name of Major one delegate shouted, "Please hold your nose." Another called, "Let's withdraw his name."

After Lucas completed the reading of the report, Judge Mayer offered his minority report. This coincided with the resolutions submitted by the committee, except that it ignored Major, not mentioning his name or referring to his administration, and indorsed the candidacy of Vice President Marshall for re-nomination and urged that the Missouri delegation be instructed for Marshall. Judge Mayer at first had difficulty in presenting the report, Major appointees and members of the Kansas City delegation repeatedly interrupting him. Order was obtained, however, and he started his denunciation of the Governor.

Major Jubilant Over Indorsement; Says He Will Be Nominated.

Gov. Major, jubilant over his indorsement for the vice presidency, by the Democratic State convention at St. Joseph, this morning, at the Hotel Jefferson, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he felt certain he would gain the coveted honor.

"I feel that Missouri will be back of me in this fight, and that leads me to believe that I will be chosen for Vice President on my party ticket," he said. Major's prime object in visiting St. Louis is to look over the excise situation.

"As head of the police force, I have always issued orders that every law must be enforced," he said. "But every law at some time has been broken. We have a law against murder—yet that is broken in even the best of communities. If I do not wish the impression to get out that St. Louis is not a law-abiding town, I know Excise Commissioner Rumsey intuitively. He is above reproach. My confidence rests in him. While looking the situation over I shall hear all complaints which may come to me. I invite the ministers who recently criticized Rumsey's administration to appear before me and make their complaints."

"I intend to do nothing spectacular—but I shall select a group of local ministers, the creme de la creme, both intellectually and morally, and ask them to give me their opinion of the situation here."

He said that he would await Rumsey's return to the city tonight before beginning active investigation of affairs.

LINCOLN COUNTY NOMINATES SENATOR BY POSTCARD PRIMARY

Opposition Made It Necessary for Expression of Choice in the Eleventh District.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 22.—Coincident with the filing by Jesse J. Duncan of his declaration as a candidate for State Senator from the Eleventh District today, the Post-Dispatch correspondent was told how Duncan was chosen as the Democratic nominee in a postal card primary which he won by 51 votes.

The postal card primary, which is the first of the kind politicians here recall, was held in Lincoln County only, but the result practically assures the nomination and election of the successful candidate.

This unusual method of selecting a candidate was made necessary by the custom of years standing in the Eleventh District, by which the counties of Audrain, Pike and Lincoln, which comprise the district, alternate in selecting the Democratic nominee for the State Senate.

Heretofore there has been no opposition for the nomination and the district is so heavily Democratic that the nomination is equivalent to election. About the time Duncan announced, Brevator J. Creech also made known his desire to run for the State Senate. The plan of a postal card primary among the Democratic voters of Lincoln County was agreed upon. About 1500 votes were cast.

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunate ones, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily, and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind, or nearly so, or who wear glasses, might never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. To save your eyes before it is too late, do not become one of these victims of needless eye trouble. Buy a bottle of Opton today, and every few years they must be changed to the next size. Opton will be in good condition, so better get it if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, marvellous eyes through the prescription here given.—ADV.

STATE PLATFORM UPHOLDS WILSON'S FOREIGN POLICY

Conduct of Affairs Called Masterly—Renomination Is Recommended.

SHIP BILL INDORSED

Tariff Commission, Rural Credits and Philippine Independence Also Approved.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 22.—Line platform adopted by the Democratic State convention here, yesterday, approves President Wilson's foreign policy and his administration in whole. His renomination was indorsed.

The resolutions also indorse the pending ship purchase bill, tariff commission, rural credits and Philippine independence. A plan for the improvement of waterways and a comprehensive program for prevention floods was incorporated in the platform. The resolutions follow:

"We, the Democracy of Missouri, in convention assembled, heartily indorse the policies of the Democratic national administration and the masterly conduct of our national and international affairs under President Woodrow Wilson.

"We voice the unanimous demand of the Democracy of this State for renomination of President Woodrow Wilson by the Democratic national convention in St. Louis and instruct our delegates chosen by this convention to vote for his nomination, and we confidently predict his re-election by an overwhelming majority of the American electorate.

"In the field of international matters we specifically approve and applaud the following achievements of our President:

"His success in guarding the honor and interests of America before the world in face of seemingly insuperable obstacles, at the same time keeping his country out of the European war and thus insuring the prosperity and security of the people of the United States at a time when the people of virtually all the other great nations of the world are suffering the devastation wrought by the most destructive conflict of all times.

"His forceful and effective championing against all belligerents of the lawful rights of Americans and all neutrals on the seas whereby, although uncertainties still cloud the outcome, it seems assured that he has won a victory which will be a lasting glory to our country and of priceless importance to both the present and future of our commerce.

"His refusal to allow our country to be drawn by selfish interests or the lust of conquest into the international strife in Mexico, his zeal to protect the independence and fundamental rights of the citizens of that unhappy republic and his prompt, vigorous action when the massacre at Columbus, N. M., shocked our land, to secure the apprehension and punishment of the perpetrators of the dastardly crime.

"Pan-American Course Praised.

"His maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine and consistent policy of fair dealing with all our sister republics of the Western Hemisphere, thus substituting a feeling of trust and confidence in the United States among the Pan-American countries for the feeling of distrust and doubt of American motives that formerly prevailed and which has frustrated in agreements assuring lasting friendships and a rapid expansion of our trade in Central and South America.

"We stand solidly behind the President's patriotic course in placing America first with reference to all questions both domestic and international, which have grown out of the world war, and with him we place citizenship above partisanship in every matter involving either the duty of Americans at home or the honor, security or just interests of Americans abroad.

"As to domestic questions, we specifically point out and indorse the following splendid achievements of the President, which have been helpful to all our industries and have aided in bringing about a prevailing era of almost unexampled prosperity.

"His practical and efficient action which, though dedicating America to the cause of peace and placing Americans never to undertake another war of aggression, now causes immediate expansion of the army and navy to provide adequate means of military defense against aggression.

"Bank Act Referred To.

"His emancipation of the commercial and industrial interests of our country from selfish domination by securing the enactment of the Federal Reserve act under which the country is forever freed from the dangers of financial panics and a democracy of credit is permanently established.

"His firm and uncompromising opposition to privilege and favoritism in our tariff system which led to the substitution of the Underwood tariff act for the unjust and burdensome Payne-Aldrich tariff act, and which caused the enactment of the income tax law which shifts the burden of taxation from those least able to bear it to those best able to pay.

"Labor Record Reviewed.

"His fearless exposure and consequent elimination of 'invisible government' at Washington, which, with insidious methods, exercised a baneful and controlling influence on legislation for many years.

ple that human labor is not a commodity.

"His unrelenting opposition to the inordinate greed of special interests and his courage in responding at all times to the demands of the people for legislation.

"We indorse and urge prompt enactment of the President's recommendation to Congress incorporated in the pending legislative program, conceived with the same patriotic purpose that has characterized all his policies and public acts. We particularly indorse and recommend early passage of the following measures:

"The ship purchase bill, which offers the only practical plan for creating quickly an American merchant marine for the carriage of the products of American farms and American industries to the waiting markets of the world.

"The tariff commission bill, to provide the means of protecting American manufacturers against any emergency which may follow the close of the European war.

"The rural credits bill, which will enlarge the market for the sound securities of the farms of our country and enable farmers to obtain credit on fair and reasonable terms.

"A Philippine independence bill, which accords with American ideals of government and pledges ultimate freedom to our wards, the Filipinos.

"The corrupt practices bill, furnishing real guarantees against the corrupt use of money in Federal elections.

"The measures to improve the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, including a comprehensive program for preventing the disastrous floods which have so often caused appalling loss of life and property in the Missouri and Mississippi valleys.

"The Democratic party has earned the continued confidence of the American people because it has made good its

Thursday Garland's A Special Great Thursday Suit Offering AND ONE OF THE "REASONS" HOW WE CAN OFFER

New Suits in a score of late styles $13.75
—Suits worth from $18 to $25 for

New York, March 18, 1916.

T. W. Garland,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir:—

Your check for $9,535.50 received this a.m., for which accept many thanks. It came in very handy at this particular time, as we are compelled to take in all our cloths for next Fall and Winter and pay "spot cash," which we are doing and storing them. Some of the manufacturers are having a lot of trouble with the mills, as they refuse to fill their contracts taken six and eight months ago, on account of the advance in prices.

The reason you have been getting such good values in Suits from us this Spring is that we own materials and linings 25% to 40% less than the market price today and we own our materials and linings for next Fall and Winter, 40% to 100% less than the market price today—but it means "spot cash," and we will continue to give you the full benefit of this advantage.

Thanking you for past favors, we are Respectfully yours,

One of the "Reasons"

The letter reproduced here is from one of New York's foremost suit makers from whom we buy several thousand Suits every season (and whose name we feel it our duty to withhold)—Suits of the better kind selling at from $25.00 to $45.00. They are leaders in the art of reproducing styles fresh from Paris.

It speaks for itself, and is one of the "reasons" why we, in spite of the fact that there is an almost universal scarcity of materials, are able to offer our merchandise, in many instances, at prices lower than when market conditions were normal.

This is not the only manufacturer who favors and co-operates with us in this same way, and we shall treat our customers just as these manufacturers are treating us. There will be no advance in prices here during the Spring and Summer season or next Fall and Winter.

pledges given them. It awaits a further opportunity to serve them and gives assurances that if the affairs of the Government are continued in its charge that it will favor:

Full and adequate preparation for national defense.

The maintenance without abatement or compromise of the rights of American citizens under international law.

The establishment of the closest relations of amity and mutual helpfulness between the United States and other republics of the Western Hemisphere, for the maintenance of peace and the promotion of the prosperity of the two continents.

At such measures of constructive or remedial legislation as may be necessary and adequate for the creation of better conditions or better facilities, for the promotion of business enterprise, for the removal of unfair conditions of competition, either in the United States or in the dealings of Americans with foreign competitors, and for the increase of scientific efficiency in industrial and commercial undertakings.

The scrupulous conservation of the national resources of the United States by provisions of law which do not prevent their use, but which do prevent their waste or monopolization.

Systematic and organized Federal action in assisting to find employment for the unemployed.

The most rigid economy in all expenditures for the support of the Government consistent with wise and efficient administration, and to that end we favor a return of the House of Representatives to its former practice of initiation and preparation of all appropriation bills by one committee chosen from its membership, in order that responsibility may be fixed, standardization and uniformity expedited, and waste and duplication in the public service avoided.

We earnestly endorse our eminent Senators, William J. Stone and James A. Reed, for their loyalty and invaluable assistance in the Senate, as well as Missouri's great Speaker, Champ Clark, and his distinguished Missouri Democratic colleagues in the House of Representatives in their support of the President.

Stone and Reed Kept in Touch With Convention.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Senator Stone and Senator Reed kept in close touch with the Democratic State convention at St. Joseph yesterday. Senator Stone retired to his office in the committee room of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Capitol. He was joined there by Senator Reed. The received telegrams and long-distance telephone communications these which kept them fully informed as to what was transpiring at St. Joseph.

Senator Stone said he knew nothing about the movement to make him a compromise candidate for National Committee until he received messages to that effect between 10 and 12 o'clock yesterday forenoon. He said he was not a candidate and had no desire to be one.

DISTRICTS ELECT 32 DELEGATES TO CONVENTION HERE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 22.—A. C. Steuber, the South St. Louis brewery politician, controlled the caucus of the Tenth Congressional District delegates yesterday and elected himself one of the delegates to the Democratic national convention. John C. Roberts was selected as the other delegate.

Francis M. Gules of the Twenty-eighth Ward ran for delegate, but was defeated. There was a fight in the Tenth District over the organization of the convention, the St. Louis County delegation being opposed to Clarence I. Shotwell, Excise Commissioner of the county and member of the State Committee, as chairman, but Steuber threw his strength to Shotwell and elected him.

Shotwell, as chairman, recognized his six contesting delegates from the county. The Twelfth Congressional District elected John P. Collins and Dr. R. Emmett Owens delegates to the national convention, and John R. McCarthy, presidential elector.

The Eleventh District elected Thomas J. Leonard and Richard Murphy as delegates to the national convention. Other congressional districts held caucuses and chose delegates as follows:

A SAFE FAMILY MEDICINE
Father John's Medicine Is Best for Colds, Grip, Sore Throat and Stubborn Coughs and as a Body Builder.

Father John's Medicine is an old-fashioned family remedy—not a patent medicine, but the prescription of a learned doctor. It is free from opium, morphine, chloroform or poisonous drugs which are found in many of the patent medicines; it contains no alcohol or other stimulants. It is a Food Medicine, pure and wholesome. Father John's Medicine has had more than 50 years' success for colds, grip and throat troubles. It is invaluable as a tonic and body builder and restores weak and run-down systems to health and strength. It nourishes the system and makes flesh.

We want to warn you against the danger in taking medicines which rely on stimulating or nerve-deadening drugs for their effect. They weaken the system and leave you exposed to disease, cause nervous prostration and a craving for drugs.

Father John's Medicine is a safe medicine for all the family; for the children as well as older people, because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.—ADV.

WATCH SORE THROATS
because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.
To correct throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion promptly rebuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.
If any member of your family has a tender throat, get Scott's Emulsion to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

FRANCIS REPLIES TO CRITICS IN THE ROCK ISLAND CASE

On the Stand He Reads Correspondence Between Him and C. A. Peabody.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Attorneys for the receiver of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad were instructed yesterday by Judge Carpenter of the Federal District Court to draw up an order providing for the issuance of $300,000 worth of new series B receivers' certificates. These are to be subordinate to the first and refunding mortgage bonds and are to be added to cash on hand for the payment, on April 1, of the interest, $1,200,000, on the $11,000,000 worth of outstanding first and refunding mortgage bonds.

The order of the court came after a day of argument concerning the payment of the various interest due on the bonds on stocks and bonds that is falling due. Louis C. Krauthoff, attorney for the Peabody Stockholders' Committee, objected to the issuance of the certificates and asked to be allowed to file a petition in answer to the receivers' petition asking for them. Judge Carpenter refused to allow Attorney Krauthoff to file his petition.

David R. Francis of St. Louis recently appointed Ambassador to Russia, trustee of the Central Trust Co. of New York for the first and refunding mortgage bonds, took the stand and read correspondence between himself and Charles A. Peabody, chairman of the committee represented by Mr. Krauthoff.

The correspondence showed that he commended the conduct of affairs under receiver Jacob M. Dickinson and Mr. Francis said that he presented it in full to relieve him of instructions made against him because of his being a trustee of the road and at the same time a stockholder and owner of $30,000 worth of debenture bond receiver certificates.

He explained that he held stock in the Rock Island by reason of a transaction in which he sold that portion of the road between St. Louis and Kansas City to the Rock Island people, and at the request of the court he purchased last year $20,000 worth of the debenture bond receivers' certificates as an aid to the road.

Then, reading from his own letter of March 8, to Mr. Peabody in reply to the latter's telegram of March 6, censuring Mr. Francis for not being present at the court of proceedings here, Mr. Francis said:

"I was startled when informed by the court that your attorney, Mr. Krauthoff, had petitioned in open court that the April 1 interest on the first and refunding bonds be defaulted on. I hope this does not voice the sentiment of your committee and the bondholders you represent, as I cannot believe any material number of bondholders would so desire."

Wanted Francis to Quit.
To that letter Peabody replied, and among other things, suggested that Francis resign his trusteeship.

"We are aware of the fact," he wrote, "in addition to the position outlined in your letter that you are the holder of and representative of a large amount of junior securities. If we may be permitted to say so, this fact not only disqualifies you from acting as trustee, but ought to move you in fairness to the bonds which you are bound to protect, to align yourself frankly on the side of your interests, and of the view which you entertain, and, by resigning as trustee, relieve the situation from the obstruction and embarrassment occasioned by your action and position."

"You stated that I have been negligent of the interests of the bondholders under the first and refunding mortgage," he wrote. "That charge is without foundation and is hereby indignantly denied. You charge that I have been influenced in my action by my interests in the junior securities of the Rock Island. That charge is false."

"When first requested by your committee to petition to decree foreclosure I was surprised, and after investigation concluded your bonds were not in jeopardy; the interest had been paid and consequently I did not comply with your request."

Wrote of His Care.
"I have been careful to take no step that would expose me to the charge of being party to a scheme to get possession of the road at much less than its value and to the serious injury of the thousands of innocent stockholders. Nor have I at any time been willing to be used by organizers or syndicate managers or attorneys, all of whom generally charge exorbitant fees for underwriting and for services, and therefore impose unnecessary burdens on the property."

"Permit me to say I do not think your committee capable, if you express its sentiments, of determining whether I am qualified or disqualified to continue to act as trustee."

A letter to Mr. Peabody from the Central Trust Co. of New York representing 80 per cent of the holders of the first and refunding mortgage bonds, as against 20 per cent represented by Mr. Peabody and Mr. Krauthoff, was read, in which the Central Trust Co. differed from the Peabody interests and said it could not accede to the request that the interest be defaulted and a foreclosure instituted.

The issuance of the new receivers' certificates will be made soon as the proper order can be drawn. Judge Carpenter took no action about the payment of the overdue interest on $300,000 of debenture bonds, as the holders of these and the stockholders are still trying to perfect an agreement whereby they can reorganize the road.

U. S. CRUISER TO TAKE GERMAN SHIP TO SAN FRANCISCO

Commander Put Into Guam When Chased and Some of Crew Are Nearly Insane.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The cruiser or Brooklyn, which sailed from Manila Thursday, is due at Guam today from which port it is understood she will convey to San Francisco the German cruiser Cormoran, which sought refuge there when she was pursued by a Japanese warship.

During the flight the Cormoran's crew tore up the wooden deck floors for fuel and the exposed iron radiators so much heat that several of the men developed symptoms of insanity. As a result it was decided by the naval authorities to bring the Cormoran and her crew to the United States.

NEW RUSSIAN PORT IS OPENED

Vast Quantity of American Goods Can Be Sent by Way of Amur River.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Russian port of Nikolaevsk at the mouth of the Amur River in Siberia, 800 miles north-east of Vladivostok, will be opened for navigation, June 14, providing a new channel for the importation of goods from the United States. This is expected greatly to facilitate shipments to Russia because of the traffic congestion at Vladivostok resulting from the unloading there of enormous quantities of war munitions and other Government supplies.

COCOA BUTTER MAKES ASPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain multifunctional cocoa butter (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifunctional cocoa butter at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—ADV.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be cured to stay cured until the blood is built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Best and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatic.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that is needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "Nervous Disorders," will be sent free, if you are interested by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store, or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, ADV.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 22.—While two Deputy Sheriffs were guarding in a van 21 prisoners, including one woman, going from the courthouse here to the prison in Cranston yesterday, some of the prisoners attacked the deputies, shot one and beat the other into unconsciousness. Sixteen of the 21 fled to the woods. The other 15 remained in the van, which one of them drove to the prison, where they gave themselves up.

Eleven of the fugitives were captured later.

'SOUL OF THE CITY' ZUEBLIN'S SUBJECT BEFORE CITY CLUB

Boston Man Discusses Betterments Brought About by Organization of Social Agencies.

Charles Zueblin of Boston, formerly of the University of Chicago, author of "American Municipal Progress," and an authority on sociological questions, addressed the City Club at noon today on "The Soul of the City." He said that the broadening and better organization of the social agencies of the city is resulting in improved conditions of living that shows itself in a stirring of the civic consciousness.

"It is an old fallacy that people cannot be made good by legislation," he said. "Few people are aggressively good. Most people are good when evil is difficult. Government does more to remove temptation than the church does. The conscience of the city acts through the government."

"Municipal courts have been organized to secure justice instead of jobs. The municipal courts of Chicago have been divided so that judges become experts in specialized courts for juvenile offenders of each sex (the younger and older youths being separated) and domestic matters. In Chicago the Court of Domestic Relations neutralizes the divorce court. Laboratory methods are employed to discover the mental capacity and moral responsibility of offenders. Los Angeles and other cities are employing a public defender to destroy the Pickwickian use of the ancient phrase, 'A man is considered innocent until proved guilty.' The superstition that imprisonment for debt has been abolished is made an article of faith in those cities that allow court fines to be paid by installment."

Socializing of Charity.
"Charity is socialized by taking it out of irresponsible private hands and making it a collective function. Kansas City, Dayton and other places have Departments of Public Welfare that co-ordinate the chief philanthropic and social services under public control. From the regulation of dances and movies to factory inspection and employment agencies a wide range of useful services is harmonized and made efficient by the Department of Public Welfare."

"Widows' pensions are provided in many cities, notably San Francisco. The Municipal Lodging House of New York leads others in guaranteeing every not-a-roof. Municipal employment agencies are trying to take the stigma from the search for work, while they relieve the victims of industrial irregularity. Los Angeles enforces the principle: 'He that will not work neither shall he eat.' The collective conscience is stirring. Private philanthropy is showing the way to universal service."

"The lure of the city is commercial and recreative. Unhappily the recreation has also become commercial. The rescue of the uses of leisure by civic and municipal organizations is one of the finest fruits of the new democratic spirit. Traditions are unstable in the city. Life is not spontaneous among the workers in organized industry. The need of organizing play to combat the dangers of the street and the fatigue and monotony of industry has only been appreciated by the last generation."

"The social center is the neighborhood's endeavor to get the equivalent of the old schoolhouse entertainments of simple rustic communities. Beginning with the free lectures of New York, the larger use of the city schoolhouse has advanced until it is a revolution in education. From Rochester and New York City to Wisconsin and California the movement has spread and unified until it now includes forums, dances, gymnasium and swimming classes, music, parents' organizations, art exhibits, motion picture shows, polling places, and many other activities generally in the schoolhouse, sometimes in the library or town hall. In Wisconsin the new voters are welcomed to civic life in the schoolhouse and the older voters consecrate their ballots there."

Pageants as Symbol.
"The symbolism of social and recreative life is being expressed also by pageants, that are being employed by all kinds of organizations for all sorts of worthy and exciting purposes in every part of the land. The Sane Fourth and the Community Christmas Trees represent a successful attempt to dignify and socialize annual festivals. Other great events have been celebrated, culminating thus far in the St. Louis Pageant. While millions of people are unconsciously accepting commercial amusements, the joy of the city is being expressed for other millions through their own democratic agencies. Blue laws have made the day of rest a day of gloom, but gradually by means of concerts, open forums, municipal and commercial movies, playgrounds, not to mention libraries and museums, the Puritan world learns that the Sabbath is made for man."

ITCHING BURNING PIMPLES ON FACE

Also Blotches. So Severe Irritated Parts by Scratching. Very Annoying. In Six Months

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had a case of skin trouble that was pretty bad. It came out in pimples and sort of blotches and would itch and burn and cause me to awake in the night. The itching and burning were so severe that I irritated the affected parts by scratching. They were principally on my face and were very annoying."

"After so many speaking favorably of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I decided to try them. I noticed great relief after having used a quarter of a box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Soap and in nearly six months I was healed." (Signed) Leonard S. Cory, 209 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Mich., Sept. 1, 1915.

Claims Woman's Beauty Depends Upon Health

Health and Vigor Necessitate Regulation of Organs of Elimination.

Skin foods and face creams and powders cannot make a woman beautiful, because beauty lies deeper than that—it depends on health. In most cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headache, the lassitude, the sallow skin, and the lusterless eyes are usually caused by constipation. An ideal remedy for women, and one that is especially suited to their delicate organisms, is found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild laxative compound, pleasant to the taste and free from opiates and narcotic drugs of every description. Mrs. Gertrude Jordan, 322 North Liberty street, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "It is simply fine; I have never been able to find anything to compare with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I started using it for the baby and now it is my family standby in all cases where a laxative is needed."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is

DOCTOR INCLINED TO BELIEF CANCER RUNS IN FAMILIES

Dr. Leo Loeb Tells of Results of Experiments in Heredity With Mice.

Dr. Leo Loeb, professor of comparative pathology in the Washington University Medical School, spoke last night before the Washington University Association on "The Scientific Investigation of Cancer."

Dr. Loeb said cancer in the lower animals has been proven to be hereditary and that indications pointed to a like condition as regards human beings. It has never been proven to be infectious, he added. He said that malformations or "developmental errors" in the body may become the source of cancer, and he included pigmented moles among the errors which may, under certain conditions, develop into cancer.

He discussed scientific means of combating cancer, and said it had not been found possible to inoculate the human body against the growth of spontaneous cancers.

The chief protection of the human race against cancer, he said, is the timely application of surgery to the local growths that develop cancer. He suggested that marriages between families, both of which have cancerous tendencies, should be avoided.

Abnormal Cell Development.

In cancer, Dr. Loeb said, the investigator is dealing with a multiplication of the small units of the body, the cells. As compared with normal growth, the cancerous growth is an abnormal development of certain cells or tissues, leading to the formation of monstrousities. The fundamental cancer problem, therefore, is to find the special factor, or set of factors, which is responsible for the excessive growth and destructive capacity of certain tissues or cells in the body, which distinguishes them as cancerous growths from other kinds of growths.

As one of the internal factors, Dr. Loeb discussed heredity. He told of experiments with mice, which have convinced investigators that cancer runs in families of mice, and occurs in a fixed ratio in different families, and that not only the cancer, but the age at which it develops, follows the hereditary course.

"Does this conclusion apply equally to cancer in man?" he asked. He replied that, while it was not possible to experiment with man with the same accuracy as with animals, there are definite indications that heredity is a factor in human cancer. The American Indian, the negro in Africa and some Australian peoples are almost wholly immune to cancer, he said, but white persons living in the same regions develop the disease. The frequency of cancer in some families can hardly be explained by coincidence, he said, and he mentioned a case in which cancer of a very rare kind had developed in two sisters.

Causes of Cancer.

Cancer may be caused, he said, by mechanical stimulations leading to inflammatory conditions, such as continued burning of the skin, or continued action of Roentgen rays without precautionary measures. Arafin workers sometimes contract cancer of the skin, and aniline workers develop cancer of the bladder.

"We know the principal internal and external features which cause cancer," Dr. Loeb said. "We can experimentally modify of manipulate the internal and external factors in such a way as to change profoundly the cancer-incidence in certain animals. . . . The problem which is not definitely solved concerns the manner in which these external and internal factors combine to cause cancer."

He asked whether the body has mechanisms of defense against cancer, and replied that a defense can be found against experimental cancer—that is, cancer produced by transferring cells from one animal to another—but that no means of defense against spontaneous cancer has been found.

UNION BREWERY BOTTLERS CONSIDER NEW WAGE CONTRACT

Anheuser-Busch Employees Take No Action at Meeting and Will Hold

Further Conference.

Union beer bottlers, employed at the Anheuser-Busch brewery, met for five hours last night at their hall at Victor street and Gravois avenue, to consider what demands they would make in the new three-year wage contract which is to supplement a contract expiring April 1. Union officials said no definite action was taken, and that a number of other meetings would be held from time to time for discussion of terms.

A contract, the union officials said, might not be agreed upon before May, but it always is effective as of April 1. Employees of other breweries also are holding meetings, as the new wage contract applies to all local breweries.

Negotiations for a new wage contract are being carried on between the employers' Labor Committee and three representatives from each of the eight divisions of the Brewery Workers' Union.

C. Norman Jones, chairman of the Employers' Labor Committee, said that a statement, made yesterday to a Post-Dispatch reporter by some union bottlers, to the effect that $1 is deducted each week from the wages of each employee to fight prohibition was absolutely and unconditionally false. He pointed out that the breweries carry on their fight against prohibition independently of the unions and that no $1 is deducted from the wages.

Brewery employees said that some workers were complaining of not being able to get work for a full week. Jones said this was a labor regulation imposed by the unions, to increase their membership and give all members some work, and that it always had been opposed by the brewers.

NEGRESS ATTACKS A HOUSEMAN

Fair Fight in Kitchen, Brick Hurled at Woman Employer.

Mrs. Felix Scalzo of 315 Morgan street, wife of a retired fruit merchant, heard a disturbance in the kitchen of her home at 8:15 last night. She found a negress there, scratching and biting Mose Henderson, the Scalzo's houseman. When Mrs. Scalzo ordered the woman out, the woman hurled a brick at her. She left when Mrs. Scalzo telephoned for a policeman. Mose said the woman was Lulu Parker, 35 years old, of 2220 Walnut street, and that he had tried to tell her all was over between them. He was treated at the city dispensary.

ROBBERS GET HONEYMOON MONEY

Man Visited Saloons Instead of Shopping With Fiancee.

Albert B. Czajinski, 21 years old, of 1825 North Twenty-first street, entered the Central District Police Station at 1 a. m. today and told of being robbed of $140 by four men at Tenth and Locust streets at midnight. Czajinski said he drew $128 from the bank yesterday, intending to go shopping with his fiancee. Instead, he visited saloons. A woman held him in conversation on the sidewalk at Tenth and Locust, he said, while four men robbed him of what was left of his honeymoon money, a gold watch and a ring.

Built on Advertising

The basis of the modern dry goods and department store is advertising.

It is advertising day in and day out that keeps the goods moving and supplies the money to conduct the business. So, naturally, dry goods and department stores have made an exhaustive and intensive study of advertising, especially in daily newspapers. There is probably no other merchant or manufacturer in so good a position to judge the various daily newspapers as advertising mediums.

So when the dry goods and department stores of Chicago buy more space in one paper six days a week than they buy in any other newspaper in seven days, that newspaper has proved to be the best advertising medium in Chicago for them.

From January 1 to December 31, 1915, The Chicago Daily News printed over one million lines more dry goods and department store advertising six days a week than any other Chicago newspaper printed in seven days. The figures are:

	Agate Lines
The Daily News.....(six days)	3,535,733
The Tribune.....(seven days)	2,200,193
The American.....(six days)	2,079,140
The Journal.....(six days)	1,660,026
The Herald.....(seven days)	1,483,292
The Examiner.....(seven days)	1,417,747
The Post.....(six days)	466,870

The experience of these successful advertisers ought to be a reliable guide to all advertisers seeking the Chicago market.

Tanlac Made Her System Like New

"Tanlac is a wonderful remedy," Mrs. J. P. O'Toole of 4517 Cook avenue, St. Louis, made this statement to the Tanlac man.

"My system was in a run-down condition and I had stomach trouble for several years," said Mrs. O'Toole. "My food would always sour and ferment immediately after eating. I had that tired, no-ambition feeling that kept me from my daily work when I would attempt to work, I would have to stop and rest. I was fat a loss as to what to do, having tried several remedies without results."

"I saw in the papers that Tanlac was doing the people much good, so I concluded to try it."

"I have taken four bottles and I can honestly say that my whole system seems to be like new. I am eating regularly and my food is digested great. My work comes easy to me and I am not troubled with that tired feeling."

"I have had very good results and will recommend Tanlac to all my friends and people who are troubled with the above complaints," concluded Mrs. O'Toole.

Women to whom household duties have become a hardship through ill health will find great relief in Tanlac. It aids digestion and restores nerve energy. Tanlac is a reconstructive tonic. It builds up the body and gives women a will to work.

Tanlac is being specially introduced at the Wolf-Wilson drug store, 6th and Washington, and at the 7th and St. Charles street drug store of the Johnson-Enderle-Pauley Drug Co., and may be obtained at all of the seven stores of the latter company. The four Winkelman stores are the special South Side distributors.—ADV.

St. Louis Has Low Barometer and 32-Mile Wind.

A barometric depression more pronounced than has been experienced here in several previous years caused high winds last night. The velocity ranged from 20 to 40 miles an hour for the 12 hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning. At 7:45 a. m. a velocity of 52 miles was registered. During this forenoon there were gusts with the velocity ranging from 36 to 44 miles an hour.

The barometric depression moved in 24 hours across the center of the country and this morning was over Southern Ohio. It is accompanied by light rains south of the Missouri and Ohio rivers and light snows north of those streams.

ONE EAR OF CORN is of small value, but think of the crop of the entire country and its worth.

Each hour of your life may seem of little account, but think of what your life may be worth if you make each hour count.

It is so with a Mercantile Savings Account. You may consider the nickels, dimes and quarters that you spend, with only a passing thought, too insignificant to save. Yet you will observe that hundreds of people around you are eager to get those small sums of yours. They take them to the bank—along with many other small sums like yours.

Isn't it better, when you think the matter over, to take your money to the bank yourself? Of course, you cannot save all you earn, but you can and should deposit a part of your income in the Mercantile—a member of the Federal Reserve System and under United States Government supervision.

LAST OF YOUNGER BROTHERS, BANDITS,
DIES AT AGE OF 72

Burial Expected to Be Beside
Other Members of Family at Lees Summit, Mo.

LEES SUMMIT, Mo., March 22.—The little city of Lees Summit today mourned the loss of an accustomed friend as the body of Cole Younger lay in the little cottage which had been his home of late years. The former bandit, a devout Christian during his latter life, was loved by the entire population and the children, with whom he was a favorite, especially missed him.

It is believed he will be laid at rest beside his mother and two brothers in the Lees Summit cemetery. Younger was one of the last of the members of the notorious robber bands that infested Western Missouri during and after the Civil War. He was a member of the Quantrill band of guerrillas and with his two brothers, took part with the "James boys" in bank and train robberies in Missouri and neighboring states that netted the looters more than a hundred thousand dollars. The leading members of these bands are dead, some at the hands of the law, some by suicide and others from natural causes. Younger, after a long term in the penitentiary, became a law-abiding Missouri citizen.

Oldest of Three Brothers.
Cole was the oldest of the three "Younger boys."

The father, Col. Harry W. Younger, came to Missouri from Kentucky before the war. He was a strong Union man, though a slaveholder. He settled near Lees Summit, 20 miles from Kansas City, where Cole was born in 1844. Col. Younger was murdered by one of the bands of lawless guerrillas that infested the Missouri-Kansas border in war time. The sons said their father was slain by Kansas for the purpose of robbery. They immediately took up arms against the North. They joined Quantrill's guerrillas, and had their part in the memorable sacking of Lawrence, Kan.

When the war was over they and the Jameses became outlaws. Among the notorious robberies of the decade following the war that were laid at their door were:

The raid on the Liberty (Mo.) bank in 1868. One bank defender shot dead and $72,000 stolen.

The looting of a Russellville (Ky.) bank in 1868 for $17,000.

The Gallatin (Mo.) bank robbery of 1868 in which the cashier was shot and killed.

Raids of Lexington and Savannah (Mo.) banks in 1867.

Ten thousand dollars stolen from the Kansas City Fair Association in 1871, while 1000 persons looked on.

The Corydon (La.) bank robbed of $40,000 the same year.

A dozen other sensational robberies for which the Younger and James boys were blamed were carried out successfully before the three Younger brothers were captured in Minnesota after a raid on a bank at Northfield, Minn., in 1876, in the course of which Cashier Haywood was killed. The Youngers were shot many times in battles with a posse, but finally were taken alive after a battle at Shilohville, Minn.

Sent to Prison.
Cole and his brothers pleaded guilty and were sentenced to prison for life. They entered the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., and became model prisoners. Bob died in the penitentiary in 1889. Cole and James Younger were paroled in 1901. The next year James shot himself, leaving a note ascribing his action to a refusal of the Parole Board to permit him to marry the girl he loved.

After Cole was paroled he was forced by Minnesota law to live in that State for three years. Then he returned to Missouri and settled down in a vine-covered cottage which he bought for a niece in Lees Summit, the scene of his boyhood days. For a time he was connected with a show and later went on the lecture platform and became a good citizen.

In August, 1913, Younger was converted to religion at a revival meeting and became an active church worker.

"I've led an adventurous, turbulent life," he said. "The war brought on hate and strife and killing around here. I have been blamed for a lot of it with which I had nothing to do. They murdered my father and I was launched into a life of shooting and reprisals and rough riding, winding up with 25 years in the penitentiary. I was brought up in a Christian home. Now I'm an old man and I've come by God's mercy back to the place of my childhood to end my days."

ARMOR PLATE BILL, PASSED BY SENATE, GOES TO HOUSE

Measure Providing $11,000,000 for Government Factory Likely to Be Approved by Representatives.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The bill appropriating $11,000,000 for the acquisition of a Government armor-plate factory passed by the Senate late yesterday, went to the House today. There the measure automatically goes to the Naval Committee, which had set apart the day for its consideration, with a view of prompt report to the House. House administration leaders plan to call up the bill as soon as the army reorganization and immigration bills are out of the way. Its passage is believed to be assured.

The Senate adopted the bill by a vote of 55 to 25 over the bitter opposition of Republicans who contended that the proposed step would drive private armor-plate concerns out of business.

The Sham Hoard

A story which illustrates the folly of worrying too much on what the morrow may bring forth.

By Harold Carter.

SIM LANE was the meanest man in Colville. Though he came of a decent old family, and had, in fact, had the chance of going to college in his youth, his father's impoverishment had turned the wine of life into vinegar for him. He settled down on what was left of the farm, and eked out a miserable existence together with his slatternly wife and the daughter who always looked half-starved. His miserliness had grown on him with age. The cottage was cold as an ice-house in winter because he burned fagots, picked up in the woods, instead of coal. Mrs. Lane looked more and more disreputable, and the daughter more hungry. He was unpopular in the village, and the boys used to shout taunts after the skulking figure.

A new barn had to be built, and after much haggling, Lane skimped down the contractor to the lowest figure for shoddy work. Then, to save money, he set to work and started on the foundations himself. It was while he was digging them—dynamite being an expense to which he would not cater—that his pick struck something harder than earth and more resonant than stone.

Presently Sim unearthed a metal box, rusted with age. With trembling fingers, he managed to get it open. Inside was a linen bag, and in the bag he found $500 in Revolutionary era gold.

A Sensation Follows.

NOBODY saw Sim make the discovery except two village boys who were watching him furtively through a crack in the fence. The story, spread through the village, recounted that, after the find, Sim sat down and ran his fingers through the gold for half an hour and more.

Everybody had heard of the treasure. For a week nobody saw Sim Lane or his wife or girl, except that the drug-gist fancied he had seen the women hurry with averted faces through the streets toward the depot one evening. However, a week later there was a sensation in Colville.

Mary Lane, looking 10 years younger, came, looking quietly, up the street toward the church one Sunday. They were dressed in decent clothes, there was a gold bracelet on Amanda's wrist and they were altogether transformed. Towns who had never favored Amanda Lane with a second look stared after her. She was positively beautiful.

A great sensation followed the next day, when the local builder called to excavate for the barn and talked of renovating the farmhouse. The coal dealer followed, and then a furniture man from the city. And on the Sunday following Sim Lane was at church with the women, in white linen and a new broadcloth suit. And soon there were callers at the cottage.

Mrs. Lane opened her mouth not unreluctantly to her friends.

"Now you see that you misjudged Sim," she said. "You see, the thought that Amanda would have to grow up without any chances just drove him wild. And you can't blame him if he got a mania for scripping money together. It got so that he hoarded every penny in the hopes of some day getting enough to start where his father left off. They called him a miser, but he's the best man in the world."

Mrs. Lane Explains.

AMANDA's smiles were eloquent testimony, too. The young man who was coming on for her the first time was obviously infatuated.

"Then, you know, he discovered this colonial money. Eight thousand dollars, which his great-grandfather must have buried at the time when the British were here, and if it doesn't rightly—"

Mr. Lane smiled. "I don't know who can claim it."

"Sim was like a man in a daze when he brought the money into the house that night. He couldn't believe it. There he sat counting and counting it over, and $500 it was, all in big, new $20 pieces. There were 400 of them, with King George's head stamped on one side, and St. George and the dragon on the other."

"Presently Sim said to me: 'I've got 400 more, and I guess our scripping days are over, wife.' Well, at first I didn't understand. But then he told me. And so the 400 is going to be spent—yes, spent. Ma'am, and the 500 Sim has got laid away where no bank's going to get hold of it. Then he burst up on him. Amanda's going to enter college next term, and I guess the neighbors won't think so hardly of Sim in all future, when they see that it was all on account of his wife and child."

"There was no doubt as to the magnitude of the change that came over Sim Lane. The whole nature of the man had changed. By the time his daughter came back from college the village had forgotten his miserly reputation. Secure in the knowledge of the $900 gold dollars hidden in the mattress, he spent freely. With this change, too, his farming began to prosper. Ten years afterward, when Amanda was happily married to the young man who had called, and the mother of children, Sim Lane was elected Mayor.

Of the two boys who had watched him through the fence, one was a thriving lawyer, the other who attended Sim in his last illness. Mrs. Lane had died the year before, which made the lawyer's ordeal less hard. A few weeks after the funeral he had a private interview with Amanda, who first looked indignant, and then laughed. She could afford to laugh, for her husband was the richest young man in Colville.

How Men's Habits Began

Sleeping.

W come home late, throw the alarm clock into the farthest corner and pile a couple of sofa pillows on top of it. Sitting down, we yawn, then remove one shoe, yawn again and take off the other. At last, with a sigh of pure joy, we dive between the sheets. It's Saturday night and, by heck, we're going to sleep until we can sleep no longer.

No one invented sleep; it's just what it always was and with no improvements; there couldn't be any. Our oldest ancestor had more time for it than we do, because he wasn't a commuter. He lived within a hundred yards of the banana grove, but probably kicked like a steer when he was called in the morning to walk over and pick up enough stuff for breakfast.

There are always people who are unhappy unless they are taking things apart to see what makes them stick. They have been digging into this matter of sleep, but of course can't quite agree on what makes us do it. Some say that the little nerve centers get all loaded down with sarcoclastic acid, which our muscles turn out when we do any real work. This tires the nerves. We commence to yawn and soon are snoring. Others claim about the same thing, but insist it is the brain that gets clogged up with that sleepy stuff.

It's even said that the dear little vegetables are fond of a nap. So do not feel hurt if the shy but fragrant garden gets into a morning's morning greeting. It may still be asleep.

It is the duty and pleasure of modern science to kick into the junk pile all those old stories they told us when we were boys. But they've had to pass by that one about sleep making people fat. It appears that those portions of us that work while we're snoring are busy piling up bits of fat. If we work it off next day, all is well, but if not, we soon hear funny remarks about our waistlines.

To those who are in the habit of dreaming, we would offer a piece of friendly advice: cut it out. It's not only a waste of time, because it interferes with good sleep, but it's very dangerous. They claim that a man who talks in his sleep always tells the truth, no matter what his waking habit may be, and a careful listener can get some mighty damaging evidence about a fellow's private life.

The old-timers used to think that dreams meant a lot, and this gave a great chance to a bunch of wise-eyed fakers. When you woke up some morning with a nervous all shot to pieces over a dream about black cats and white horses, you'd call in one of these boys. He'd look solemn, read a lot of stuff out of a big book and then collect a nice fat fee.

There are some pretty stiff stories about dreams which they claim are true. Coleridge took a three-hour nap one day and composed a real poem, "Kubla Khan." He jumped up and wrote out 54 lines of it. The poem is

At the Army Camp This Summer

"They forgot to provide us with a supply wagon, Captain." "Use Jones—he's lived in the suburbs all his life."

to prove it. Other fellows have worked out hard problems in mathematics and business tangles in their sleep. The best that the majority of us can do is to wake up some morning in a cold perspiration over one of those dreams about walking down Broadway in half a suit of pajamas.

Some fellows claim to be able to get along on four hours' sleep, but they are scarce. Most of us never get enough. Old Rip was yawning when he woke up after that 20-year nap.

Amid the servile applause Zadig's voice broke forth in protest.

"No!" he exclaimed. "The cup should not be awarded to me, but to your majesty. For all other nobly generous exploits are as nothing compared to that of a ruler who admits he is in the wrong and who permits a subordinate to oppose him for doing an injustice."

Which bit of subtle flattery so pleased the King that he made Zadig his Prime Minister in Coreb's place.

The Girl Who Was Envious

Sandman story showing how often we may misjudge the very persons who wish to be our best friends.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

ADA stood in the farmhouse door and watched the big carry-all creaking up the stony mountain road.

When the vehicle stopped in front of the door an elderly lady dressed in black climbed down and was followed by a child about Ada's age. The little girl was fashionably dressed.

"I guess the new boarders are awful rich," said Ada to herself as she peered at them from behind the curtain.

At tea Ada waited on the table while her aunt cooked a big supper of waffles, old ham, biscuit and other delicacies. She noticed that the little girl, whose name was Pauline, did not eat much and that she was pale as if ill.

After tea Ada was busy washing the dishes, so Pauline was left alone.

"I don't think she wants to play with me, anyway," thought Ada, as she enviously looked at the new child's rich clothing.

Now Ada lived with her aunt, a widow, whose sole support was this rocky mountain farm. By good luck she had heard that Mrs. Beverly and her niece, Pauline, wished to come to the mountains for the summer, and she was glad to get them to make a bit of extra money. Ada had no cause of complaint, for her aunt was kind, but, being poor, could not afford to give her much pleasure.

ONE day Mrs. Beverly was called back unexpectedly to the city and left Pauline in Aunt Mary's charge. The result was that Aunt Mary got up a basket of lunch and told the two girls to have a picnic over by the old mill. But a pair of gloomy faces it was that walked sadly along, having nothing to say.

"She's too proud to talk," said Ada to herself—she did not see the tears of loneliness in Pauline's eyes. At the mill they ate their lunch in silence. Then Ada thought of a wicked scheme.

"I will frighten her good," she said to herself. "And let her see I can do things she can't." Out over the millrace ran a thin plank. Ada walked out on it carefully.

"Come over here, Pauline," she called. "There are some lovely wild violets here by this rock." Pauline was frightened but did not like to refuse to go. Her pale face grew whiter as she stepped on the plank and felt it shake. Trembling, she took a few steps, then stopped.

Just then the plank gave way and Pauline was thrown into the water. Over the great wheel she tumbled and was swept down into the swift current.

Ada was paralyzed with horror. What had she done with her wicked envy?

"I WILL save her if it costs my own life," she whispered to herself as she raced along the bank of the stream. Pauline had disappeared beneath the water. Ada thought with agony that the girl might never appear again. A few yards in front of her a grapevine hung over the mill race and some of its branches swung loose. Ada grabbed it and just then saw Pauline's death-like face appear on the surface. Holding to the vine by one arm she swung upward and seized the drowning girl by one arm.

"Hold tight, I will save you," she screamed. Ada, then in a loud voice she screamed for help. In a few moments the miller came running toward the girls. By the time he reached the bank Ada was almost exhausted.

"Oh, Pauline," went Ada that night when the girls sat on the front porch. "I have been awful wicked—I just hated you, be—I thought you were proud on account of being rich."

Pauline's face lighted with a smile. "I never thought about my clothes at all," she said. "I was lonely—mother has been dead just a few months and father is away. I wanted someone to play with, but though I was a big girl, that rich girls can be as nice as poor ones and that envy is apt to bring punishment. She and Pauline became warm friends."

How to Tell a Liar

WHEN a man is telling a lie he breathes differently from when he is telling the truth. The difference was discovered by means of some tests made upon his students by Prof. Benussi of Graz.

He prepared cards bearing letters, figures and diagrams and distributed these among his pupils. These were required to describe the cards correctly, except in certain cases when the cards were marked with a red star, and the students receiving them were required to describe them falsely. Each student was watched carefully by his fellows, who, ignorant of the nature of the card, tried to judge from his manner whether he was telling the truth or not. The watchers were unable to judge with any certainty.

Under the direction of Prof. Benussi the time occupied in inspiration and expiration was measured, and the measurement was taken again immediately after he finished. It was found that the utterance of a false statement always increased and the utterance of a true statement always diminished the quantity obtained by dividing the time of inspiration by the time of expiration.

Dr. Anton Rose, commenting on these results, remarks that the discovery furnishes a certain criterion between truth and falsehood. For even clever liars are likely to fall in an attempt to escape detection by breathing irregularly. Prof. Benussi having discovered that men are unable voluntarily to change their respiration so as to effect the result.

Laclede Av. Lady Places Jar "Vap-O-Rub" Handy Before Retiring

Mrs. Hickman Finds New External Treatment Best Protection Against Colds and Croupy Coughs.

Mrs. M. Hickman, 4020A Laclede av. is one of the many intelligent St. Louis mothers who have discarded the old-fashioned internal medicines, in favor of the new "outside" treatment, Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve.

Last winter Mrs. Hickman tried a jar from Wolff-Wilson, and writes us as follows: "I have given Vick's 'Vap-O-Rub' a thorough trial for headache, cold in the head and chest, cuts and burns. I find it without equal. Upon retiring at night I keep it within reach in case it is needed."

If you or the children are subject to head or chest colds, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, in fact, any form of cold trouble, try a 25c jar of "Vap-O-Rub" tonight. Just rub it well in over the throat and chest, and cover with a warm cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck, so that the vapors released by the body warmth can be inhaled with each breath. These vapors carry the medication direct to the lungs and air passages. For, in addition, Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness.

You will find it quicker than internal medicines, and, in addition, it is absolutely harmless, and can be used freely on the youngest member of the family. At all drug stores.

VICK'S "VAP-O-RUB" SALVE

The Two Girls

— A Study in Character —

WHILE I was in school I had two friends. They went to classes together, did their home work together, exchanged confidences together. They were rather young, too young to worry about anything but their arithmetic lesson and the long composition at the end of each week.

Gradually they drifted apart. Soon they had no longer walked home from school together or studied together. Young boys, embarrassed, conscious of their hands and feet, but proud of their long trousers, escorted them to their little parties.

One of the girls went in for the rather fanlike society very strenuously. She gave up working hard over her lessons; she failed regularly in her recitations; she had a "date" every evening, and the one work went begging. The other girl, when her friend began to desert her, settled down again to her lessons. She studied more seriously, recited more correctly, and improved her faults in a more painstaking manner.

I moved far away, so that to a certain extent lost track of my two friends. I did not see the girls together until a year ago. It was at a reception that I met them. The little girl who had been one of parties was pouring tea at one table, my studious friend was serving chocolate at another.

The difference in the two young women was startling. As they talked easily around their respective places, I was especially noticeable. For the butterfly girl talked glibly, and the other girl had a mind well stocked with current events and new ideas on vital subjects. As I rank my chocolate and ate my tiny slice I noticed that the group surrounding the butterfly girl was gradually drifting over to the table where the other

The Contest; by Voltaire.

THE King of Babylon was weary of gladiatorial games and athletic meets. He resolved upon a wholly new form of contest.

Word was sent forth throughout the kingdom that a jeweled cup would be awarded to the man who had done the noblest and most generous deed. Contestants were ordered to appear before the throne on a certain day and cite their claims to the cup.

In planning this odd contest the King was aided by Zadig, wisest man in all Babylon, and by Coreb, the Prime Minister. But just before the day of the great event, Coreb was degraded from high office, and in spite of Zadig's pleas the King refused to restore the disgraced Minister to favor. A throng of competitors for the jeweled cup surged up to the throne on the day of the contest.

One man—a Judge—told of having mistaken judgment rendered a wrongful decision which had caused the defendant to lose a fortune. On learning of his own error the Judge had given his whole estate to the unfortunate victim to atone for the injustice.

Another contestant was a youth who told of loving a girl to distraction and of giving her up to his dearest friend in order that the latter might not die of unrequited love for her. The youth had at the same time given his friend the girl's rich inheritance, of which he was the custodian.

A Tale of Good Deeds.

A SOLDIER told of traveling through the Hyrcanian Mountains with his wife and mother. They had been attacked by bandits. To save his mother's life he had allowed the bandits to kill his adored wife.

Later, he had found life so unbearable without his wife that he had determined to kill himself. But he had obeyed his mother, who bade him live on and support her in her old age.

Among all the competitors, this soldier's story most impressed the judges. They were about to give him the cup when the King interrupted:

"The deeds told us today were worthy. But none of them was out of the ordinary. History is full of men who surrendered their fortunes to atone for an injustice; with men who gave up a sweetheart to a friend; with men who saved their mothers at the cost of their lives."

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction."—Mrs. T. P. CLOYD, 1355 North Gulick Avenue, Decatur, Ill.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Willard-Moran bout will probably be won by the man who can drive in the heaviest punch. Both Willard and Moran are noted for the "kick" they can produce at the critical moment in any fight. But their methods are entirely different.

Moran, thick-necked, tough as iron, careless of injury and willing to traffic in blows with the hope of winning in the end, never perfected a defense. Willard, from the beginning of his boxing career, has studied every method of blocking or evading punishment, but is no more willing than Moran to take a backward step or to shirk his share of the mixing when gloves are flying fast.

Like Moran, Willard has very unusual assimilating powers. I've seen him fight many times, have seen him hit hard on the "knockout" spot, and have never yet seen him shaken or dazed by a blow.

The nearest I have seen Willard come to showing any sign of even momentary dizziness was in the fight with Jack Johnson. Early in the fight Johnson drove him left through an opening and plunged into Willard's solar plexus. Willard's mouth opened and his face was twisted into an expression of mingled pain and surprise. But his mouth closed with a snap, a second took the place of the first, and he instantly struck Johnson a heavy right-hand blow on the ribs that brought back and sent him into a swift retreat from Willard's following rush.

Apparently the blow in the solar plexus, which might easily have knocked down any ordinary heavyweight, didn't weaken or worry Willard in the least. It made no little impression on Willard that when I asked him about it, 30 hours after the fight, he didn't remember having been hit in the pit of the stomach at all.

I've seen Frank Moran take his medicine without a sign of distress. Just before Moran went to Europe, Jim Savage said to me, "I've seen Moran stop him on his feet at the end and walking ahead and stretching out his arms to feel for Savage, as though his eyes were closed and he couldn't see. He battered face was expressionless. He waited until Savage struck, and then tried to hurl himself in the direction from which the blow came, swinging wildly in the hope of striking his invisible enemy. I've seen him stop the fight to save Moran. But Moran wouldn't let me stop him. He isn't the quitting kind."

So the matter of gameness isn't likely to be tested Saturday night. The ability to take blows will count somewhat, but the man who can deliver blows will count a great deal more. Going back over Moran's fights, there was the first one with Al Palmer. Both were novices then, March 9, 1915. They sailed into each other savagely, and it was a great 10-round fight. Not scientific, you understand, but just a fight that was a test of strength, gameness and hitting power.

Both went down and came up again, fighting. At the end of the unknown, had a slight lead. He had fought a little more savagely than O'Rourke's "White Hope."

Palmer Is Knocked Out.
In September, 1912, they met again. Both had improved a lot, but six months before Palmer had been beaten by Luther McCarty, and Moran had been beaten by Tony Ross, Jack Geyer, Jim Savage and Gus Smith, although only Savage had stopped him. They were experienced, and better for the hard fights they had been through. Palmer, touted as a "white hope," held Moran cheap. He lived a free and easy life and the night before the fight he was out until nearly dawn with a "wine party," and he paid for his sin.

The price was heavy. It was his whole fighting career. For Moran gave him a beating he never recovered from. After Moran had knocked him down two or three times, and finally out, Palmer had a "glass jaw" that made him drop out of the "white hope" class shortly afterward. Today he's fighting occasional preliminaries in small towns in Minnesota.

It was in that fight that I saw Moran deliver the hardest blow he ever struck in the ring. He hit the huge ox-like Palmer on the chin so hard that the glass jaw doubled up like hinges and let him fall to the floor, as if he'd been shot through the head. Moran looked like a world's champion that night.

The blows that sent Coffey down were nothing to that punch, although Moran

LEE MEADOWS HUGGINS' CHOICE FOR FIRST GAME

Spectacular Hurler Shows Impressive Form in Recent Work-outs Down South.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HOUSTON, Tex., March 22.—Lee Meadows, after his sensational exhibition with the little horseshoe pellet in yesterday's fracas with the Houston Hurts, is Huggins' most probable pitching nominee for the opening game of the spring series.

Lee never looked better on the hill than he did yesterday. His curve was breaking wide and fast, and his crooked ball whizzed past the batters almost before they could lower their clubs. He had control, too. The Hurts didn't get many good balls to hit, while Meadows was in there. It was a fast one across the corner, then a curve over that corner. The way Lee mixed 'em up kept the batters guessing what was coming next. Three hits in six innings was his record. He whiffed eight men, too.

This Houston club is no joke, either. The fact that the Hurts beat the Cardinals in 12 innings testifies to the ability of the Houston aggregation to play ball.

Bob Steele, the Canadian left-hander, was the first to hit Meadows. He went the first five innings and was found for three bingles. No two came in the same inning.

New Delivery for Steele.
Steele showed a new cross-fire that he's been trying to perfect some time. He hit Meadows with a left-handed bouncer away from the plate when Bob started cross-firing was laughable.

If Meadows looks like the probable series opener, Steele appears the most likely nominee for the second game, in case Meadows proves a winner in the first fracas.

Will and Reese Williams will face the Hurts this afternoon in the final game of the regular season. Steele, of course, if either member of this pair shows more startline stuff than Meadows, that one may be worked at that position.

It Coffey hard enough to satisfy the fans, he's got to be a winner in the ring. The blows that beat Palmer to a pulp right-handers, like the blows that settled Coffey. But I've seen Moran hit nearly as hard with his left. It's absurd to say that he is a one-handed fighter. He has a corking left. When he fought Luther McCarty in New York he didn't strike a solid blow with his right hand. He claimed that the right was broken when he entered the ring. McCarty was a very fast, aggressive, classy sort of a fighting man. He punched Moran for 10 rounds, and there was only one moment during the 30 in which he hooked a left on Moran's jaw so hard that McCarty's jaw turned white and he dropped his arms to his sides. Moran, however, didn't follow his advantage, and in a moment McCarty was strong again and exacting what vengeance he could.

AMERICAN CAMP TAKES LEAD IN PIN TOURNAMENT

The American Camp, Woodmen of the World League team, practically clinched first place in the North Side handicap bowling tournament last night, when they totaled 2507, which included a handicap of 221 pins. The scratch total for the quintet was 2616, which is only fair tennis. The Otto W. Mottlers took second with 2541, including a donation of 225 mauls.

H. Reininger and O. Schmitt, with 1267, went into the lead in the two-man. This included a 120-pin handicap. Reininger was 124 in the first round, getting a 600 scratch total. The best score in the individuals was a 616 by H. Kroll.

Otto Detweiler won the 50-games special match from Alvin Kroll, 115 to 100. The pair started on a 120-pin handicap. Kroll started at 12:45 o'clock and finished at 1:30. A 600 bet of $300 went to the winner.

Country's Best to Meet in Coliseum Mile Event

Joie Ray (A. A. U. Champion), Mason (Who Broke Two Records Saturday), Ivan Myers, Marceau and Herriott Will Furnish the Competition.

FIVE athletes, who last Saturday scored 25 of the 41 points for the Illinois U. track team in the conference meet held in Evanston will be seen in action here, next Saturday night, in the indoor relay carnival of the Missouri Athletic Association. These stars are Capt. Mike Mason in the mile, Ames in the hurdles, Culp in the pole vault and Holman and Gildner in the sprints.

One of these men, Mason, broke two conference records, while Ames tied one. So it looks very much as if Coach Gill's proteges would have to be figured strongly in the coming events. The points for the quintet were scored as follows:

Mason 10, winning one and two-mile runs.
Ames 5, winning 60-yard hurdle.
Culp 5, winning pole vault.
Holman 3, second in 50-yards dash.
Gildner 2, third in 50-yards dash.

Mason right now is considered one of the best distance men in the conference. His record last Saturday, when he won the mile in 4m. 24s., clipping five seconds off the former mark set by Campbell, the year before, and the two-mile in 17m. 45s., knocking two seconds off his former mark, stamps him as such. It was the second time this year that he captured both these events in an indoor meet.

Mason Faces Hard Competition.
In the meet here, Mason will be up against some real competition. He will have Joie Ray, Ivan Myers, Herriott and Marceau as opponents in the mile run. Both Ray and Myers own better marks than the Illinois U. star.

Ames, who tied the 60-yard hurdle mark of 8 seconds, will be opposed by Bob Simpson, the Missouri U. star, and

Blouin and Karlicek Cut Down Lead of Gotham Pair in Special Bowling Match

CHICAGO, March 22.—Over a thousand bowling fans packed the Randolph alley yesterday to witness the Chicago fall of the 42-game match between New York and Chicago, in which Tony Karlicek and Jimmy Blouin, beat Jimmy Smith and Glenn Riddell, 79 pins on the total of seven games rolled yesterday. The Eastern pair accounted a lead of 200 pins during the first half of the match, which was rolled in Brooklyn. The local men will have to do better during the next two days of the match if they wish to keep the big end of the prize money.

Jimmy Blouin, who was the "dog" of the first half of the match, was the star of the second half. He rolled a 1428 pins for an average of 241.2. Jimmy Smith considered the best match bowler in the country, gave Blouin a hard time, finishing with 1371 pins. Smith brought down the house when he rolled the 42-2 in his fifth game. The men will go at it again this afternoon.

The scores:
Blouin 210 175 213 202 218 206 211-1438
Karlicek 163 155 196 185 192 197 192-1320

PLANS FOR 1916 CENTRAL STATES REGATTA FORMED

Schedule Drawn Up Here Last Night Will Be Presented to Peoria Business Men.

At a meeting of the Central States Rowing Association held last night at the St. Louis Rowing Club the delegates drew up a schedule of the events and a table showing the cost of holding the regatta this year. This was turned over to Peoria, which is the only city that wants the events, and will be presented to the business men of that place within the next few days.

Last year, the regatta was held in Quincy, Ill., and proved a good one, although on the last day several accidents were narrowly averted, owing to the roughness of the Mississippi river. The Central Rowing Club of this city, the point trophy, the shell was entirely flooded. The work of Irwin Muhl, the sprinter, who will be making his first appearance in the local fans, will be watched with the greatest interest. He is entered in the Special 50 and the 60 open. Besides Muhl, Aronson, who is trying a "come back," will come in for his share of the attention.

Loomis Still in Doubt.
Tom Watts Jr., chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Cherry Diamond, announced this morning that there was nothing new in regards to Joe Loomis, the national sprint champion. The case has developed no new lights either way. Some definite word is expected from the C. A. A. star either today or tomorrow.

Faddy Fitzgerald, coach of the U. A. C. track team, will send his charges through their final workout prior to the meet. The work of Irwin Muhl, the sprinter, who will be making his first appearance in the local fans, will be watched with the greatest interest. He is entered in the Special 50 and the 60 open. Besides Muhl, Aronson, who is trying a "come back," will come in for his share of the attention.

National Tennis Association to Donate Trophy

Dwight Davis, former Park Commissioner of St. Louis, and president of the Municipal Association, today received a letter from George Lee, president of the National Lawn Tennis Association, telling him that the association has decided to give a trophy to the winning team of the public parks tournament.

The trophy will be perpetual one to be contested for each year.

CANNEFAX GAINS EASY VICTORY OVER MOORE

Cannefax, the local entry in the Interstate Three-Cushion Billiard League, gained an easy 60-35 victory over John Moore of Chicago in the match at the Regatta Club. The local player was in good form, uncorking a high run of nine, while he averaged 85. Moore's high run was a five, and his average 81.

In the match played in Peoria last night, William Kalthoff of Cincinnati was returned the victor over Charles Legros, 60-36, in 27 innings. The winner's high run was five and the loser's four.

At Toledo, Hugh Hest trimmed Tod Hascall of Milwaukee, 50-25, in 62 innings.

BROWNS MUST WIN WITHOUT COACHING OF FIELDER JONES

Leader Tells Men They Must do Their Own Thinking in Games.

By W. J. O'Connor.
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

LITTLE ROCK, March 22.—Fielder Jones complained today about the demand of certain Brown players for superfluous signals. Incidentally he told his men something they didn't know.

"I'm not going to think for you fellows," said he, "because I want you to show me that you can think for yourselves. I wouldn't give a plugged penny for the players who work like an automaton. I do not want him on my club. He won't win."

"I've noticed that too many of you are waiting for me to tell you what to do. Be careful, you're liable to wait yourself out of the league. When the game starts I want you fellows to go out there on your own resources. I want you to think and show me that you have some strategems in your head, and I'll advise you now that the fewer signals you use the better. Learn to do things by intuition. Study the game so that you will shift at one instant without yelling at each other. When you do that you'll convince me that you're ready to win."

Three Pitchers Are Ready.

The Browns played on their own hook and lost, yesterday, in Memphis, 6-3. It was their worst exhibition of the trip. Their play at times being bum, however the chief trouble lay in the pitching. Dave Davenport, port suddenly pulled up lame, Koob experienced an off day while Jim Park, who was rushed to Koob's assistance, with the bases filled, had nothing but his glove.

"Three men on this squad are as good as they ever will be," said Ray. "Fincher, Wellman and Groome are in line shape. I think Koob also is ready. He simply didn't have his stuff yesterday. Davenport, though, has a bad arm and he possessed none of his speed in yesterday's short session. He was all right two days ago. I don't know what his trouble is."

Doc Lawler took charge of Davenport today, adding him to the crippled list, which includes Ernie Johnson and Ward Miller, who greeted the Browns upon their arrival here. Lawler says Miller is ready to play now, but Johnson will profit by a rest of two or three days. He has advised against Johnson being used in the next two games against the Cardinals, although Ernie thinks his ankle is O. K.

Little Rock Has 8 Browns.

It is almost a second edition of the Browns that now represents the Little Rock club. Rumor behind the bat, Covington on first, Charley Starr on second, Clyde Ward at short, Kores at third and Ernie Walker, Kirby and Harry Post on base. All St. Louis castoffs. Furthermore, they have a bad arm and he possessed none of his speed in yesterday's short session. He was all right two days ago. I don't know what his trouble is."

Fincher probably will work five innings today, yielding to Groome in the sixth. Wellman will work tomorrow, assisted by Park. Hartley, however, is out of the line. The catching here will be done by Chapman. George's carelessness at the bat has been one of his most commendable traits. He never has been known to back away from a fast ball. But Slater was beaten, yesterday, by players. Jones especially, and he patiently waited to see whether the Michigan marvel will be as bold at the bat.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH OLD MAN DOPE

By John Edward Wray

Quick, the Pulmotor!
W gathered from the speech of Billy Connitt that the athletic game in St. Louis is down to its last gasp, because $3000 worth of seats to the M. A. A. meet still remain to be sold, before the club can break even on its big show, next Saturday night.

One dollar and fifty cents for reserved seats at an athletic meet is enough to bring the population of St. Louis to its last gasp.

The Talent Is Worth It
Not that the show will be inferior, but that athletic meet tickets, at this figure, in this vicinity are as rare as a poor man in an evening dress.

Saturday's event will beyond question be the most important assemblage of track and field stars ever seen in St. Louis. With Cornell, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Missouri, and other universities represented, as well as athletic club and unattached stars, the event will class with the senior A. A. U. championships or with the intercollegiate title events.

The Merediths, Simpsons, Diamonds and (perhaps) Loomises of the athletic world will be there. To bring teams of athletes from Philadelphia and New York, paying their expenses and transportation, costs REAL money.

In fact, the last time the M. A. A. staged a meet, it cost $4000 to put on the event and the sales of tickets amounted to only $2500—a loss of $1500.

If the event proves a financial loss, this year, the club will abandon it. As Connitt stated yesterday: "If the people of this city do not want this sort of thing, we won't try to force it on them."

Athletes have been fading to an asthmatic whisper, in this burg. Isn't there enough interest in the game left to help pull the club through in a laudable effort to revive the sport?

In Midseason Form
ST. LOUIS clubs lost four baseball games yesterday, all to minor league outfits. As it now appears, both Runners beat the Browns, yesterday, with a squeeze bunt. It was a roller that Burton should have sealed, but he didn't. Pratt tried for it, and was interfered with by Park, who caused the Browns manager to explode about the inanity of superstitious players. Jones especially, and he patiently waited to see whether the Michigan marvel will be as bold at the bat.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCordell.

Little Miss Emma Jarr Is Asked to Play on the Piano for Her Father.

"If I was to start little Willie tomorrow you would kick at the expense and, anyway, you don't do anything to encourage them; but I don't mind that so much, it's the way you talk. Some day you'll be making remarks of that kind and you'll hurt people's feelings and get into a lot of trouble, because some people are sensitive about such things, and, anyway, it's a culture, and even if it wasn't, you've no right to talk that way."

"If you will tell me what you are talking about," said Mr. Jarr, looking at her as if dazed, "I'll be much obliged."

"I'm talking about how well little Emma is getting along with her music lessons, and I said it plain enough, if you would only have the patience to listen," said Mrs. Jarr with some asperity. "Just think how young she is, and has only been taking a few lessons and—"

"My dear," said Mr. Jarr, interrupting her, "I may be so bold as to contradict you, you never mentioned 'little Emma's' name. You started first about the expense and then you ran off into a wilderness of words regarding my hurting people's feelings with my tactless remarks about something you did not mention."

"Well, it's dreadful the way you talk about people who play the piano. I have heard you say a dozen times that men who play the piano are no good, and the better they play it the less good they are."

"And to these exalted sentiments I do still steadfastly subscribe myself! There may be exceptions to the rule, but I haven't met them," said Mr. Jarr firmly. "Men who play the piano ARE no good! Neither are men, especially youngish men, who wear whiskers."

"I know lots of men who wear whiskers and who are lovely," said Mrs. Jarr, "so that proves you all wrong, and, furthermore, if little Willie has any talent he shall take music lessons, too!"

"Oh, very well," said Mr. Jarr wearily. "Let him play the piano. Let him do anything."

"Emma, come and play for your father; let him hear how nicely you can play your scales, that's a darling!" said Mrs. Jarr.

"I don't wanna!" protested the little girl.

Mrs. Jarr picked up the child from the floor and sat her on the piano stool. "You play when your mother tells you to!" she commanded.

"Yes, play for papa, that's a nice little girl!" said Mr. Jarr in his most moral manner. "When asked to do anything, dear, do it gracefully and pleasantly."

"I can't, I forget!" sniffed the little girl.

"Emma, you play your exercises, and at once!" said Mrs. Jarr.

So commanded, the little girl commenced to cry as if her heart would break and put her little hands behind her. Mrs. Jarr endeavored to pull her hands over the keys and the little girl slipped off the piano stool and onto the floor and commenced to squeal and kick.

"There, now!" exclaimed Mrs. Jarr, turning to her husband. "I hope you are satisfied. They hear how you talk about music and I can do nothing with them."

"Don't make it a task for her; she's only a baby," suggested Mr. Jarr.

"Well, anyway, I'll say this for the child: she isn't bold and pert and always showing off like your sister's little girl," said Mrs. Jarr. "And I'm not going to force her in her music, either; but if she isn't going to play better than your sister's little girl I'll know the reason why!"

Willie Was Wise.

Parson: Willie, do you know where all boys go who play baseball on Sunday—?
Willie: Yes, but I won't tell you. You'll tell a cop and then we'll all get chased.

Mental Nutrition.

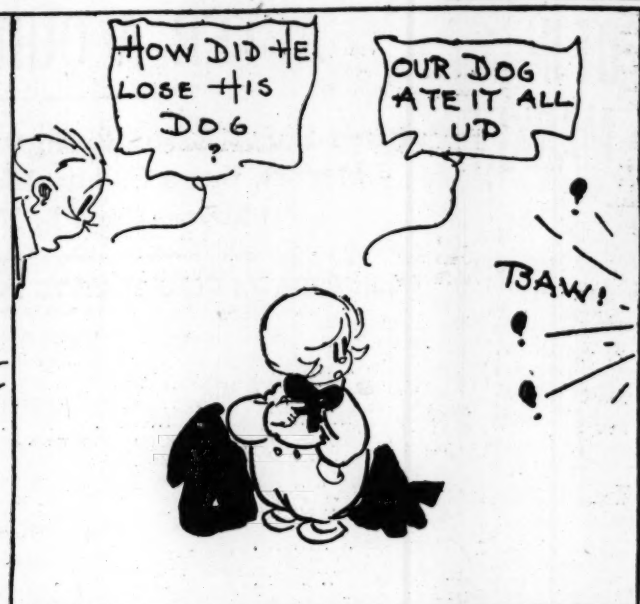

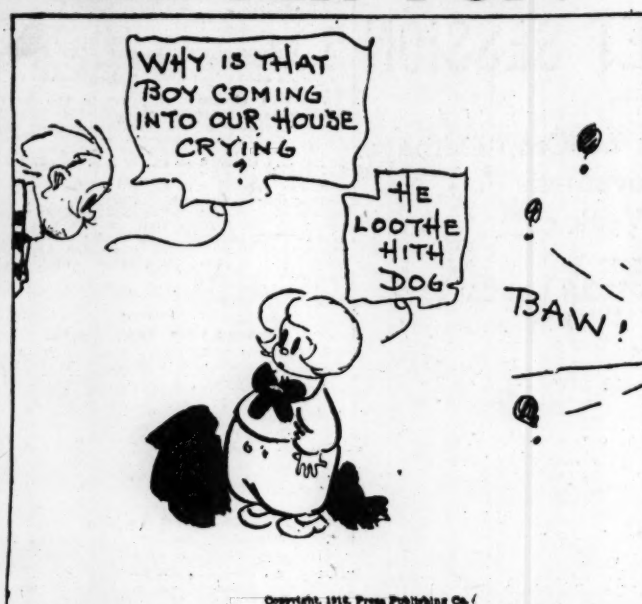

JUST think of it! A whole splendid dinner—soup, fish, entree, beef with two vegetables, sweets and cheese, for 35 cents!

"Wonderful! Where can you get such a dinner at such a price?"
"Nowhere, but just think of it!"

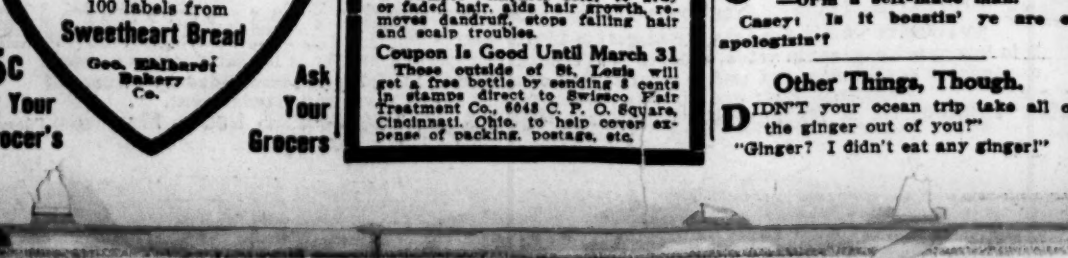

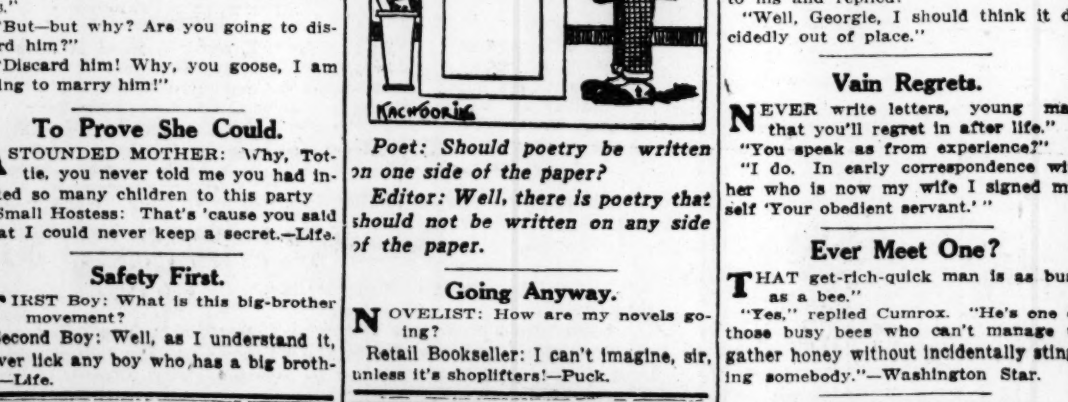

Efficient Girl.

HOW about your new stenographer? Is she quick and accurate?
"Yes, sir; she can powder her face, arrange her bracelets and fix her hair quicker than any stenographer I ever had. And do it accurately, too."—Pittsburg Post.

S'MATTER POP?

Such Is Life

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One.

HE fellow Helen married was a self-made man, wasn't he?"
"Uh-huh."
"Nice short of chap, eh?"
"Well, he was when Helen got through putting the finishing touches to him."

Fairly Fooled.

A charity bazaar in a small provincial town a great attraction was a tiny gray suede glove, which lay on a rose-pink satin cushion. Above it was displayed a notice which read:

"The owner of this glove will, at 1 o'clock this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a ticket before that hour."

It was such a sweet little glove that it could only belong to a lovely girl. At least, so thought the long line of young men who were waiting eagerly at the clock struck 7.

Promptly to the minute old Maydock, the local butcher, appeared. Maydock is a worthy person, but not a beauty. He calmly picked up the glove and remarked:

"Well, gents, this glove belongs to me. I bought it this morning. I'm ready for you, so don't be bashful. One at a time, please!"

A Rank Outsider.

A CHICAGO publisher registered at the Hotel Cecil in London recently, and was assigned to a room on next to the top floor. The following morning he rang for a bell boy. When there was no response to the second call he lifted the telephone receiver and dialed in vain for "Are you there?"

Falling to establish any communication with the office, he dressed and started for the office to register indignation. The elevator wasn't running. He began to walk down. On the fourth landing he met a housemaid and asked in strong Chicago language what was the matter with the hotel.

"Well, sir, you see, sir," came the answer, "the Zepellins were reported, and we were all ordered to the cellar for safety."

After which the guest said: "Well, I'm on the next to the top floor and I wasn't warned."

"No, sir," was the bland reply. "But you see, sir, you don't come under the employers' liability act, sir."

True Enough.

WHAT is the plural of man, Johnny?" asked a teacher of a small pupil.

"Men," answered Johnny.

"Correct," said the teacher. "And what is the plural of child?"

"Twins," was the unexpected reply.

More Human Nature.

MAR—Fifteen mothers agreed to decide by ballot which had the handsomest baby.

Heinz—What was the result?
Omar—Each baby got one vote.

Foresight.

MOTHER to Tommy, who is fishing in the rain barrel: Oh, you silly boy! There aren't any fish in there.

Sometimes Appearances Are Deceiving.

"It's strange, Miss Kelly, that my boy James doesn't get on well in his lessons in school. He studies like a little man."

The Laugh on Him.

M. R. JONES had recently become the father of twins. The minister stopped him in the street to congratulate him.

"Well, Jones," he said, "I hear that the Lord has smiled on you."

"Smiled on me?" repeated Jones. "He laughed out loud."

Obvious.

FATHER (reprovingly): Do you know what happens to lars when they die?

Johnny: Yes, sir; they lie still.—Boston Transcript.

IVORY SOAP

IT FLOATS

EXAMINE a fine lace collar that has been washed with Ivory Soap. Notice how clear it is, how much it feels like a new piece, how fresh and unworn it looks in every thread.

It is tests such as this that show the all-round quality of Ivory Soap—its mildness, purity and freedom from uncombined alkali.

To Wash Real Lace Collars and other Fine Laces

Baste the lace to a piece of clean white muslin so that each point and pleat is held firmly in place. Make a good lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and let the lace soak for thirty minutes. Then alternately press between hands and dip into the water until clean. Do not rub. If necessary, use a second clean sud of Ivory Soap. Then rinse in clear water, next in blue water and lastly in a thin starch. Tack on a board stretching the muslin evenly. When nearly dry, remove from the board and press thoroughly through the muslin. Do not put iron on the lace. When dry, cut the basting threads and you will find the lace like new.

Casey at the Bat Again.

THE Prisoner: There goes my hat. Shall I run after it?

Policeman Casey: Phaw! Run away and never come back again! You stand here and I'll run after your hat.—Everybody's Magazine.

Invites Digging.

DO you raise anything worth while in your garden?" said the visitor from the city.

"I should say so," answered Mr. Crosslots. "It's the best place for fishing-worms in the entire village."

Question of Quality.

O'BRIEN: Oil can say what thing—Of a self-made man.

Casey: Is it possible ye are an apologist?

Other Things, Though.

DIDN'T your ocean trip take all of the ginger out of you?

"Ginger? I didn't eat any ginger!"

Vain Regrets.

NEVER write letters, young man, that you'll regret in after life.

"You speak as from experience?"

"I do. In early correspondence with her who is now my wife I signed myself 'Your obedient servant.'"

Ever Meet One?

THAT get-rich-quick man is as busy as a bee.

"Yes," replied Cumrox. "He's one of those busy bees who can't manage to gather honey without incidentally stinging somebody."—Washington Star.
